PARTY HEADS CONFER HERE IN SECRECY

Conservatives in Provincial Legislature and Defeated Candidates Meet Ministers in Caucus

ONLY THREE ARE ABSENT

Forthcoming Legislation Is Before Party Meeting, Prior to Convention to Be Held at Kamloops

THE Conservative caucus which was held last night in the Conservative rooms proved strictly what it was announced to be—a "caucus". The Premier, upon the conclusion of the night sitting, made the statement that there was nothing to give out with regard to the proceedings.

The sittings began early yesterday morning, and continued up to noon, when an adjournment was made to the residence of Hon. S. P. Toimie, Premier of the Province, where the entire assemblage sat down to luncheon.

Following that an afternoon sitting was held, starting at 2:30 o'clock and continuing until about 6:30 o'clock, when adjournment was taken for dinner, after which the caucus resumed at 8 o'clock and sat through until a late hour.

Like all such gatherings, the Government took the members into its confidence on many matters affecting the coming session, the legislation possibly to be brought down and other matters affecting the welfare of the party. The proceedings were private, and no statement of any kind was taken following the conclusion of the sittings.

The attendance at the caucus included almost all the Conservative members of the Legislature, and in Continued on Page 2, Column 6

LONDON, Nov. 21.—Lord Beaverbrook, in a letter to The Morning Post (Conservative), replies to the criticisms from those peers and members of the Government who heard his exposition of the "Free Trade Within the Empire" plan, two nights ago at the House of Lords. The Canadian-born newspaper magnate, who has been pushing the idea for months, writes:

WINDSOR PAPER IS FACED WITH ACTION

TORONTO, Nov. 21.—Mr. W. F. Herman, publisher of The Border Cities Star, Windsor, Ont., is named as defendant in a writ for $100,000 for damages for libel, issued at Osgoode Hall yesterday by the Amalgamated Builders' Council.
The libel is alleged as a result of certain articles published in the Windsor newspaper during the probe conducted by Mr. Gordon Waldron, K.C., during the months of August and September into the affairs of the council.

WAREHOUSE BLAZE DOES BIG DAMAGE

Early Morning Fire on Wharf Street Breaks Out From Unknown Cause and Threatens Property

THREE FIRMS ARE LIKELY LOSERS

Alarm Was Sent In at 1:38 but Fire Was Well Under Control in About Hour's Time

FIRE of an unknown origin which is believed to have started in the top floor of the Rithel Consolidated building, Wharf Street, near Fort Street, at about 1:38 o'clock this morning was under control at 2:30 o'clock. Nearby residents smelt smoke and on investigating saw large clouds issuing from the top floor. They immediately turned in the fire alarm.

Firemen rushed to the scene and soon had a number of hose lines playing water on the front of the building. At the back, flames were seen to issue out of the windows, but these were soon extinguished.

The top floor where the fire is believed to have started is occupied by Dowell Brothers' Carriage and Storage. Other premises in the building are occupied by Rithel Consolidated and Pierce, Erickson & Hill, wholesale confectioners.

On fire as could be ascertained at the time of going to press the only damage was done in the top story. The exact amount of loss was not obtainable when the paper went to press.
Chief of Police John Fry, Sergeant Arthur Bishop and Constable J. Ireland attended the scene of the fire with the police patrol.

INVESTIGATES FISHERIES OF COAST OF B.C.

Superintendent of Fisheries for Dominion Comes to Inquire Into Activities and Regulations

HALIBUT TREATY TO BE STUDIED

VANCOUVER, Nov. 21.—Mr. W. A. Found, superintendent of fisheries for the Dominion, reached the city today to inspect the local activities of the department and to hold two conferences.

As far as could be ascertained at the time of going to press the only damage was done in the top story. The exact amount of loss was not obtainable when the paper went to press.
Chief of Police John Fry, Sergeant Arthur Bishop and Constable J. Ireland attended the scene of the fire with the police patrol.

NOT TO MAKE GRANT FOR AIRPORT SITE

VANCOUVER, Nov. 21.—The Provincial Government does not feel justified in making a grant towards the improvement and construction of an airport on the Sea Island site. The project was approved by the City Solicitor J. B. Williams. Hon. Mr. Toimie says the improvement of the site is a Federal rather than a provincial matter.

Mr. Stanley Baldwin Hears Son Give Notice of Socialist Motion

LONDON, Nov. 21.—Oliver Baldwin won in that glorified House a raffle which is more politely known as the ballot for notices of motion, and four weeks from yesterday the Socialist son of the former Conservative Premier proposes to entertain the House with his maiden speech on the distribution of wealth.
As from the furthest corner of the Labor benches Mr. Baldwin, Jr., quietly announced his intention to introduce this familiar topic of Socialist platforms, the House laughed delightedly.
In his place as Conservative leader Mr. Baldwin, Jr., sat, evidently a little bewildered. The House laughed again at his confusion. But he took the family challenge philosophically. With his feet on the table, he leaned back and smiled.

Soviet Relations Still Puzzle to House of Commons

LONDON, Nov. 21.—Since the opening of negotiations between Great Britain and Russia, with a view to the resumption of diplomatic relations, the Government has been subjected to a continual barrage of questions in the House, and today proved no exception. "I do not propose to add anything to the answers already given," declared Rt. Hon. Arthur Henderson, Foreign Secretary, in reply to three questions today.

One them by Mr. W. Smithers, Conservative, Kent, requested Mr. Henderson to obtain a report regarding the "part played by agents of the alienation in the Government's hostile demonstrations during disturbances in South Africa."
No content with the Foreign Secretary's refusal, Mr. Smithers pressed for an answer. Mr. Henderson said he had already stated this was a matter for the Government of South Africa.

GREAT CROWD AT BURIAL OF MR. O'CONNOR

Laid to Rest in England to Typify Reconciliation of British and Irish Peoples—Traffic Suspended

FAST NUMBERS TO PAY LAST TRIBUTE

LONDON, Nov. 21.—The wish once expressed by Mr. T. P. ("Tay Pay") O'Connor, veteran statesman, that he might be buried in England to typify the reconciliation of the two races, was fulfilled solemnly today when Westminster Cathedral was crowded with mourners anxious to pay their tribute to the famous Irishman, who died in the House of Commons at a requiem mass celebrated by the Archbishop of Liverpool, prior to a burial service at Kensal Green Cemetery.

The vast congregation, representative of all classes, included Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald, the Speaker of the House of Commons, members of the cabinet, lords and earls, and numerous literary figures in London's life.

A crowd waited outside the cathedral to pay respects. When the plain oak coffin, covered with the Irish flag, was borne out, men and women broke through the police lines and crowded around the procession. Thousands lined the streets and avoided each other by a very slight margin.

Prince of Wales Has Near Escape Of Plane Crash

LONDON, Nov. 21.—The Prince of Wales narrowly escaped a collision in the air while he was making a practice flight in his Moth airplane at Heston yesterday.

There was a slight mist over the ground as the Prince circled over the air field before landing, and it obscured his view of another airplane preparing to come down. The Prince and the other pilot saw the danger in the nick of time and avoided each other by a very slight margin.

Phone Exchange At Gordon Head To Have New Name

Known since it was opened in 1924 as the Gordon Head Exchange, the telephone office in that district will be known as Albion after December 1. In a circular letter sent out to all subscribers in the district yesterday, the district commercial superintendent, F. C. Patterson, stated that the change in names was necessary in connection with the preparations for cutting over from the "Gordon Head" to the "Albion" manual to the dial (automatic) system. While it is not the intention to introduce the automatic system in Gordon Head at present, this may be done later on, the change in the name being made because of the fact that the present name is not suitable for dialing, and for technical reasons might cause confusion when the Victoria system is used. Just why Albion was chosen will be appreciated when it is understood that the district exchanges should be named alphabetically to facilitate business under the new system.

ANOTHER SERIOUS FIRE

WEYBURN, Sask., Nov. 21.—The fourth serious fire Weyburn has experienced in a month last night destroyed the Tinslow block, in the heart of the business section. Total loss was estimated at $30,000.

OPPOSITION GATHER IN GT. BRITAIN

Rank and File of Conservative Party Discuss Situation Following on General Election

CENTRAL OFFICE
GIVEN SUPPORT

Want Empire Unity and Security for British Industry Placed in Forefront of Platform

LONDON, Nov. 21.—The rank and file of the Conservative party made their voices heard when the fifty-seventh annual convention of the party opened in Albert Hall today. The executive committee reported as being in favor of establishment of a subcommittee, which would convey resolutions to the party leader and thus maintain closer liaison between the rank and the top. But from the same rank and file came plans that the report did not go far enough.

ABSENCE OF LEADERS

Mr. Dan Thomas, from South Wales, protested against the absence of party leaders. "Let them come here and breathe the atmosphere of the conference," said Mr. Thomas. "I want the chairman to say, 'Winston Churchill, bricklayer and ex-Chancellor of the Exchequer, come to the conference; Neville Chamberlain, master manipulator of municipal monstrosities, come to the conference.'"

Then came protests against the party machinery, under which the leader appoints the chairman of the party organization. Sir Charles Marston, a member of the executive committee, described it, as an "autocracy making as a democracy." Lieut.-Col. Grant Morden, Canadian-born member of Parliament, declared "system was worthy of a Tammany Hall boss."

CENTRAL OFFICE

Hon. Herbert Williams, former Parliamentary Secretary to the Board of Trade, moved an amendment in appreciation of the work of the central office. "The only way is to elect a leader and then take him or her back," he declared. "There has been nothing done by the present Government which cannot be subjected to serious attack. I appeal to you to make that kind of attack and stop sniping among ourselves." The amendment moved by Mr. Herbert Williams carried.

Government Plan Steamer Service To Indian Ports

OTTAWA, Nov. 21.—With a view to considering the establishment of steamship services from Eastern Canadian ports to India and British Africa, the Minister of Trade and Commerce has authorized the issue of calls for tenders to ascertain the probable cost of such steamship services.

The Government, it is stated, does not obligate itself to accept the lowest or any tender, but the trade prospects for such service appear sufficiently encouraging to warrant a study being made of the situation in the interests of Canadian exporters generally.

Copies of the tenders have been mailed to the High Commissioner in England, and to shipping firms who may be interested in this proposal. The tenders will close on January 6, 1930. The service will be required to commence in 1930, and the steamers or motorships utilized must be of British register.

Daring Flight of Aviator Brings News of Safety of McAlpine Party in North

WINNIPEG, Nov. 21.—A lone ace of Northern flyers today made a treacherous 200-mile flight to Fort Resolution, on Great Slave Lake in the Northwest Territories, bringing the first word of the McAlpine explorers to be received in ten days. Alone, Andy Cruickshanks, pilot in the aerial relief expedition under the command of Captain Guy S. Blanchet, arrived at Fort Resolution today, and reported Col. C. D. H. McAlpine and his party safe at Fort Reliance, on McLeod Bay, where they have been land-bound since Tuesday, November 12.

Without means of communication with the outside world, Cruickshanks undertook the dangerous mission from Fort Reliance to ascertain conditions and to report the party's safe arrival at Reliance.
LANDINGS ARE UNSAFE.
Radio reports received by the relief party were not assuring. To the south of Fort Resolution, along the 1,000-mile aerial trail to The Pas, landing conditions are not favorable for the big ski-runners planes of

DISARMAMENT BUT SECURITY AT SAME TIME

Rt. Hon. Stanley Baldwin Declares Empire Must Stand as Eternal and Indestructible Unit

MAKES PLEA FOR ALL INDUSTRIES

LONDON, Nov. 21.—Disarmament, but only on the basis of British security, was advocated tonight by Stanley Baldwin, former Prime Minister of Great Britain, in a speech at a mass meeting of the Conservative party, Albert Hall, with a capacity of six thousand, was crowded with listeners.
Mr. Baldwin predicted future peace for the Labor Government in the way of growing unemployment, business depression and higher cost of living. Turning to disarmament, he said:

PEACE WITH SECURITY

"During the World War the Conservatives stood for peace with honor. Today we stand for peace with security."
"We all favor disarmament, but disarmament on our part, irrespective of what other nations may do, does not truly serve the cause of peace."

"We must be able to guarantee peace in our Empire. If the Empire is unable to do this within her borders, she becomes a source of peril to the world."
Mr. Baldwin linked the unemployment problem with foreign trade and said that only were exports falling but "our share in the total volume of world trade has decreased and continues to fall."

HEAVY WEIGHT OF DOLE

He said that the Labor party Government, by giving larger doses as a part of its attempt to meet the unemployment situation, was only imposing heavier taxation on the people.

SECRETARY CHOSEN FOR EXHIBITION

OTTAWA, Nov. 21.—Mr. Ernest Rhodes, of the Dominion Agriculture Department's publicity branch, has been appointed secretary of the World's Grain Exhibition and Conference, to be held in Regina next year. It is announced, Dr. Griede, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, is to act as chairman of the conference programme.

Experts Discuss Big Problems of Fruit Producers

VERNON, Nov. 21.—Mr. C. E. Jefferson, assistant freight traffic manager of western lines, C.P.R., Winnipeg, and Mr. A. T. McKean, assistant general freight agent, C.P.R., Vancouver, spent Tuesday afternoon in conference with Mr. W. Sanford Evans, commissioner investigating the fruitgrowers' problems. Although none of the parties made any statement, it is understood that the discussion centered about the possibility of securing a better assembly rate.

Twenty-Seven Persons Known to Have Been Swept Away by Huge Seas Succeeding Quake

PITIFUL SCENES
ARE WITNESSED

Southwestern Newfoundland Smitten as Fishing Industry Is Paralyzed by Extent of Damage Done

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Nov. 21.—Confidence that Monday's earthquake had left in its track nothing but incalculable damage, was shattered with tragic finality today. Just when the tremor had been set down as little more than a matter of scientific record, a casual disturbance on the ocean floor, the wireless of a little coastal steamer flashed out the knowledge that the quake had swept at least twenty-seven lives from the cliffs of Burin, with indications that the number would be swelled to thirty-six, and had reduced to debris the means of livelihood of a people of over thirty miles of coast.

RUSHING MEDICAL AID

Tonight the Government steamer Meigie was carrying medical aid to the stricken peninsula, jutting out of Southern Newfoundland, which caught the crushing force of a towering tidal wave on the southern shore. Doctors, nurses and provisions were hastily placed aboard the relief ship when the steamer Portia this morning wireless the Justice Department at St. John's scant word of the disaster.

Eighteen of the six hundred of the folk of Lords Cove, in Burin West, died when the earthquake's tidal aftermath thundered in from the sea early Monday night, two hours after the tremor. Seven were drowned at Port Au Brasin and Kelly's Cove in Burin East as the Continued on Page 2, Column 5

WOMAN ENTERS CONTEST FOR COUNCIL SEAT

Mrs. James McGregor Announces Candidature for Alderman—Mr. Walter Inward Is Also Aspirant

DR. A. G. PRICE NOT RUNNING

Mrs. James McGregor, 51 Menzies Street, will be a candidate for a seat on the City Council in the election next month. She is the first woman to enter the field for any of the civic posts to be filled by the electorate on December 12.
Mrs. McGregor was a candidate for the Police Commission last year, when her opponents were Police Commissioner Walter E. Steneland and Mr. Andrew McLean. She had previously been a candidate for the Provincial Legislature.

The candidate, who believes that women should have representation on the aldermanic board, denied the report published last evening that she would enter the field for the seat now occupied by Commissioner William White on the Police Board. "I am definitely in the field for alderman," Mrs. McGregor told The Colonist.

Mr. Walter Inward will also be a candidate for the City Council. His name has been frequently mentioned as a likely entrant in the aldermanic race, and he has definitely announced his candidature. He is a strong advocate of the establishment of a police force.

LIVELY DEBATE AT MEETING OF B.C. LIBERALS

Harmony of Gathering Upset by Resolution Wanting Canadian to Be Governor-General

MR. J. P. HOGG TO BE NEW PRESIDENT

VANCOUVER, Nov. 21.—Following a denunciation of the present Provincial Government by M. T. Pattullo, leader of the Opposition in the Provincial House, at the annual meeting of the Liberal Association of Vancouver at Moose Hall, Thursday night, the harmony of the gathering was seriously disturbed by a resolution presented by Mr. T. Kearney, calling for the election of the Governor-General by people of Canada.

Three noncontentious resolutions were presented by Mr. John Henderson, expressing confidence in the Mackenzie King Government, approval of the establishment of a legation at Washington and Tokyo, confidence in the leadership of Mr. T. D. Pattullo and urging a road connection between Hope and Princeton to link the eastern part of the province with the Coast were unanimously passed.

OFFICERS ELECTED
Officers elected for the ensuing year were: Honorary presidents, Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Hon. J. H. King and Mr. T. D. Pattullo. Mr. J. Pittcain Hogg was elected president; Mr. Frank Bayfield, Mrs. M. Knowles, Mr. John Henderson and Mr. James Ball, vice-presidents; Mr. Ralph Scruton, secretary; Mrs. E. S. Davidson, treasurer, and Mrs. Howard Murray, auditor.

Delegates to the provincial executive elected were: Messrs. Brenton B. Brown, Charles McDonald, J. G. Tugwood, J. W. DeS. Patten, J. A. Campbell and J. W. Thompson. Up to this point the proceedings of the annual Liberal gathering had proceeded in a peaceful manner. Mr. Kearney introduced a resolution to the effect that since Canada had been recognized by the world at large, in future the Governor-General of Canada be elected by the people of Canada.

Following an animated discussion of the resolution, it was withdrawn by the mover.

and the Morden motion was defeated. The report of the executive was accepted with one amendment, and Hon. Neville Chamberlain, brother of Sir Austen and formerly Minister of Health, was appointed chairman of the conference for the coming year.

EMPIRE UNITY

Turning to policy, the conference considered a resolution by Sir Henry Page Croft, member of Parliament for Bournemouth, that party leaders should place the policy of Empire unity and security for British industry and commerce in the foreground of the party programme.

"The Government is hauling down the flag, or lowering it to half-mast, in India, Iraq and Egypt," Sir Henry said. "It is embracing the Bolsheviks of Moscow, and destroying British prestige throughout the Dominion."

He asked why the fiscal policy approved by the Conservative conferences had not been given greater effect? Was it because a minority of free traders held the key positions in the party?

RAG-TAG ORGANIZATION

Mr. F. J. Hannan, another member of Parliament, thought the "few wobbly free traders in the party were rather an embarrassment than otherwise." Let them go, he said. He further referred to the Labor party as "the most miserable rag-tag organization you ever saw."

ATTACKS PREMIER

Prime Minister MacDonald was bitterly criticized today for "kow-towing to President Hoover in setting the British navy's strength," by Mr. P. J. H. Hannan, Conservative member of the House of Commons. Mr. Hannan, addressing the Conservative canvassing corps on Imperial preference in tariffs, said that "all this talk with America, all these negotiations heralded abroad by ten thousand bugles in the press, all this talk of a five-power conference to settle our naval parity, would be unnecessary if the British Empire was the great united whole it ought to be. 'Why should the British Premier go to Washington to settle the strength of our navy?'"

Company to Observe Dominion Fish Week

VANCOUVER, Nov. 21.—Tons of fish, most of it from British Columbia waters, will be used by hotels, dining-cars and ships of the Canadian Pacific Railway system during Canada's National Fish Week, November 22 to 29. The scheme was inaugurated by Hon. P. J. A. Gardin, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, to emphasize importance of the Dominion's vast fish resources.

Brigands Loot Europe's Crack Orient Express

LONDON, Nov. 21.—A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph from Sofia, said that the Orient express, Europe's crack train between Constantinople and Paris, was held up this afternoon near Caribos, by brigands who killed two passengers and wounded several others. The train was plundered.

The Bulgarian Government has closed the frontier in order to effect the capture of the bandits. Advice from Belgrade stated that the locomotive of the express had arrived at Tzarsbrod, near the Serbian frontier.

ishment of an up-to-date, modern public market. Dr. Arthur G. Price, for many years city health officer, will not be a candidate for the council. While he had been approached by many citizens to allow his name to be placed in nomination for aldermanic office, and while he would like to render some service to the city, Dr. Price told The Colonist that he could not qualify because he was in receipt of superannuation.

THOSE FIVE SEATS

Five seats on the council will be filled by the elections on December 12, the retiring aldermen being Aldermen R. A. C. Dewar, John A. Worthington, J. L. Mara, John Harvey and William Marchant.

In addition to the above five aldermen, all of whom are seeking re-election, Trustees Alexander Peden, Trustee Arthur C. Pike, Mr. Robert Smith, Mr. J. A. Shanks, Mr. R. T. Williams, Mrs. James McGregor and Mr. Walter Inward are candidates.

Mayor Herbert Anscomb and Commissioner William White, candidates for re-election to the mayorality and police commissioners' offices respectively, are as yet unopposed.

There are four vacancies to be filled on the City School Board, and candidates in the field thus far are Trustee J. S. McMillan, Captain F. R. Wright, C. H. McMillan and P. E. George.

SALMON PACK ON FRASER HEAVIER

NEW WESTMINSTER, Nov. 21.—The salmon pack on the Fraser River this year shows an increase of 80 per cent over last year. The season closed November 16. A pack of 459,042 cases was put up this year as against 257,816 in 1928. Large gains were recorded in sockeye, cohoes and pinkies. The sockeye pack was more than 100 per cent ahead of 1928. Pinkies increased 50 per cent.

Five Texas Club Women Dead From Motorcar Crash

DALLAS, Tex., Nov. 21.—Five Texas club women, of prominent Fort Worth and Leonard families, lost their lives in a grade crossing accident near here today.

Robert Guess, negro chauffeur, the only survivor of the auto that crashed into the side of the fast traveling motor train, was taken to a hospital in a serious condition, but was expected to recover. The first snowstorm of the season was blamed for the accident. Guess said the falling flakes obscured his vision, and the car skidded into the train when he tried to stop.

GREAT DAMAGE DONE

The winter fishery upon which the people of the Burins depend for the necessities of life, is temporarily paralyzed. Fishing boats and dwellings were down with the tide. The full extent of the damage may not be known for days. Telegraph lines to Burin have been down since Sunday, when a northwest hurricane swept in and kept the fishermen ashore.

The only assistance available to the communities tonight was that rendered by the little steamer Daisy hurrying from port to port along the peninsula shore.

Already in St. John's a fund is being collected for the aid of the Burin people.

SCENES OF DISASTER

The little peninsula, a narrow outpost of Southern Newfoundland, was in direct line with the epicentre of Monday's break in the Fundland fault, and apparently caught the first strength of the tidal wave that, rushing northwards, and broken by the shore line, reached more remote points on the coast at a later hour and with diminished force.

This is in line with the experience of Gloucester Bay, N.S., where the water receded and returned at fifteen-minute intervals. One schooner entering Port Union sprung a leak, and at Catalina the breakwater was swept away and the concrete walls of the powerhouse were cracked in a score of places.

"The great market of the United States is becoming more hedged in by tariffs as the years go by. Also more European nations are adopting the same system and the only big markets open to Britain now lie in the Empire."

"After three centuries of dreams of wars, of eager striving and intermittent lethargy of British union and schism, we stand once more at the crossroads."

"This is an age of combination. People of the United States were welded by the fierce heat of war. Now some people are talking of a United States of Europe."

SCANDINAVIAN TRIP OUTLINED

Dr. L. S. Klinck Addresses University Extension Audiences Characteristic Described

The need in British Columbia of a characteristic art, particularly a characteristic architecture which would better reflect the character and spirit of the people, the strength and inspiring beauty of the mountains, was stressed by Dr. L. S. Klinck, president of the University of British Columbia, in the course of the "conclusions" with which he closed his address last night on "Scandinavia Revisited," given for the University Extension Association at Victoria College. The observation was associated with the lecturer's reference to the magnificent type of cathedral architecture which he had found at Trondheim and elsewhere in the Scandinavian countries, but by inference it was intended to apply to all forms of art, which also, in Scandinavia, had a very individual character.

"These subjects are much more than mere ornamental means to expression," he maintained. "They are avenues to broader and broader understanding of life."

Dr. Klinck's story of some of his experiences as a traveler in Scandinavia last summer in company with Professor Boving, also of the university staff, was philosophically expressed, with a continuous thread of reflectiveness. Early in his talk he told his audience that the object of the visit was not only to see the countries, but to learn something about the outlook of the people and the meaning and purpose of things.

Thanks to family and professional associations, Professor Boving had entered to a more intimate side of the social life than the average tourist, and as a result the visitors saw much more than the mere superficial side of Norway, Sweden and Denmark.

SIGNIFICANT

"Superficial differences are legion, but the fundamental differences are very few," Dr. Klinck said in comparing the Scandinavian life with our own. Among the few significant differences he mentioned were the early mixing of the peoples, however, he specially mentioned the unprotected conditions in banks, which operated in ordinary rooms, without tellers' cages or other safeguards against robbery. This, surely, was a commentary on the honesty of the people.

The topographical features of the three Scandinavian countries were compared. Sweden having numerous high mountain ranges, high plateaus and high coastal ranges; Norway, mountainous throughout, her coast indented with great fjords, and Denmark, contrary to his expectations, holding big areas of nonarable land, all relatively flat, nowhere rising to an altitude over 600 feet.

In touching on the ancient history of Scandinavia, Dr. Klinck showed the early effect of Viking movements on the culture of England, Scotland and Ireland. And in Scandinavia itself the early mixing of the peoples was traceable in the common origin of their sagas. He spoke about their love of music, and the effect of the great festivals at Upsala and Oslo in encouraging this art.

GOOD LINGUISTS

The Scandinavians of the upper and middle classes, he noted, nearly all spoke several languages, in this respect differing from the same classes in England and America, who were usually content to know but one, and to trust when traveling to the people about them to understand. The Scandinavian countries had many wonderful treasures in painting and sculpture. Some of the paintings in the museum at Stockholm were described, one by Carl Larsen in particular.

The culture of the peoples was expressed both in the personal and communal sense. Many technical schools for the young and high schools provided everyone with a means of education, a commendable thing, but resulting, inevitably, in the loss of the individual.

Influence, special mention being made of the beauty of the laborers' gardens which rim the larger towns, and which are handed on from generation to generation. Another thing which had impressed him was the almost complete absence of evidence of fire in the great forest areas through which they passed while traveling across the country. The cities were notable for their cleanliness. Among the numerous fine museums that at Gothenburg

CIVIC CANDIDATES

At a time when there are scores of organizations in the city whose members are constantly, through discussions and in other ways, culling knowledge of the affairs of the community, it is more than passing strange that such a languid interest should be shown in civic affairs. The roster of candidates for the City Council suggests apathy among our younger business men. It seems a question of their lacking either the time or the energy. It can hardly be a question of time, since so much is given to the activities of clubs and organizations, and that is time that could be even more usefully employed in the direct service of the city. A progressive community should connote keen competition for civic office. It should be the ambition of representatives of the best brains among the population to offer themselves for public office. The progress of a municipality is often enough measured by the calibre of its Mayor and aldermen, by the vision they possess and by the confidence with which they inspire the citizens.

It seems little enough to ask our citizens as a whole to take a greater interest in municipal life. There are matters of moment to every one of them that require wider public interest. There is the question of municipal effort to make the Ogden Point elevator and the Cold Storage plant paying ventures, since municipal credit is involved. There is the outstanding issue of long deferred reduction in municipal taxation. There is the problem of making reverted lands tax-producing once more. For sportsmen there is the issue of better municipal playing fields, and from the tourist standpoint there is the need for organized attractions that they stay at present, during longer periods than they stay at present. It is never right in any municipality to say that there are no issues, and why, therefore, should sacrifices be made to secure municipal office to assist in their solution? There are always such issues and they are manifold in this community. In some respects we have progressed; in others we are hardly making progress at all. The task of greater development rests on the shoulders of our citizens as a whole and it is one that should particularly interest the younger generation of businessmen.

Apathy in coming forward for office will be reflected in a light vote at the polls when the municipal election is held. If individuals, well equipped for municipal office, will not offer themselves as candidates, the property owners and other ratepayers will be proportionately languid in their interest in election results. New blood is always a good thing in any representative body, yet it seems difficult to arouse Victorians to this realization. There are a number of well-known citizens who have done yeoman work in connection with the various service organizations who would be welcomed in the field as aldermanic aspirants. The opportunity is theirs if they wish to seize it. It is their privilege to be instrumental in arousing greater interest in the work of the municipal council. Selfish reasons should not be allowed to prevent their seeking office. The best possible representatives on the City Council are none too good for any community which desires to take advantage of all its opportunities.

PHILOSOPHY FOR THE SICK

Simply because Robert Louis Stevenson said it, it does not follow that all the world should accept it without question. There is always more than one angle from which a subject can be examined, and different people may arrive at different conclusions; yet all conclusions may command respect and appear to be sound and logical. Stevenson, himself tuberculous, had his own philosophy of life. Some of his physicians may not have agreed with it, perhaps, but still there is a manly ring about it that cannot fail to find an echo in the hearts of many who have grown a little weary of fighting for years for small and doubtful gains. Here is what he said: "It is better to live and be done with it than to die daily in the sickroom. By all means begin your fello, even if the doctor does not give you one year, even if he hesitates about a month, make one brave push and see what can be accomplished in a week. It is not only in finished undertakings that we ought to honor useful labor. A spirit goes out of a man who means execution which outlives the most untimely ending. All who have meant good work with their whole hearts have done good work, although they may die before they have time to sign it. Every heart that has beat strong and cheerfully has left a hopeful impulse behind it in the world and bettered the tradition of mankind."

Stevenson's words are the product of a powerful brain and a frail body. Not only did he mean good work, his achievements will outlive numberless future generations. "If his philosophy is open to criticism by a certain class," writes Mr. J. R. Poyer in "The Tranquillan," "if, as some assert, it should be hidden away from eyes and ears of curable tuberculous individuals because of the probability that it might weaken the patient away from the strict regimen of the 'cure,' none will deny that R.L.S. practised what he preached." There is a class of individuals having disease of a more or less advanced and chronic nature, against whom the accusation might well be laid of wasting what little health they have like a miser. It is to these that Stevenson's philosophy is particularly applicable. The great author himself demonstrated without doubt that not only those sound of mind and limb can achieve immortality. In the hearts of millions Stevenson still lives and his useful labors are honored increasingly with time.

A TRANSCANADA ROAD

The Western Section of the Canadian Automobile Association has been in session at Calgary and has come to some decisions affecting highway development in this part of the country. For one thing it has decided to urge the Federal Government to define a policy affecting early construction of a transcanada road. In another resolution affecting roads the various Provincial Governments in the West are urged to interest the Federal authorities to expropriate where necessary and to build and maintain an inter-provincial highway from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Among motorists there is a unanimous desire for facilities for travel across the Dominion. Any project looking towards the completion of this highway will receive very substantial support. Of all the greater road-building enterprises in contemplation the transcanada is the most important. It means the provision of better facilities for communications between our own people.

Other matters discussed at the Automobile Association meeting were uniform standards of emergency road service, uniform tourist information, uniform highway traffic acts and uniform highway marking. The general consensus of opinion was that there should be uniformity of laws, generally speaking, dealing with traffic. There is now some suggestion of a uniform traffic act of which a draft exists. It will be probably a long time before the amendments to existing provincial laws, if considered desirable, could be made, but some such uniformity could well be aimed at by degrees. One resolution passed at the gathering embodied a request to the provinces of British Columbia and Alberta to adopt a uniform highway marking system of the same character as now prevails in Saskatchewan and Manitoba. The object aimed at in this respect is to have the provincial road so marked that it will be impossible for motorists to stray from the main highways.

Germany is one of the countries now contributing substantially to Great Britain's wheat supply. German wheat for export is supported by a bonus, and as a result of this 590,000 quarters were exported to Great Britain for the year ending July 31 last as compared with 22,500 quarters for the preceding twelve months. The bounty is to be increased next February, and France and Austria are also to give bounties so that Great Britain, among other nations, will be able in the future to draw more and more wheat from European sources.

In Alberta a charge is made against the Government that it is raising more revenue than it needs so that it may brag about its surpluses. A total of $15,265,083 was collected in taxes during the last fiscal year from a population of 600,000. The taxation burden is too heavy, and, obviously, since a surplus was possible, it could have been reduced. Taxation reduction goes against the governmental grain. Excuses and subterfuges are constantly being advanced to show that taxes must be maintained, whereas ordinary economy and business administration could reduce taxes everywhere.

LONDON'S NAME-STREETS

Street names have a great fascination, and never more so than when they perpetuate the memory of an individual. In London, however, there are many which bear a single feminine Christian name, the application of which is not always apparent, and to trace the particular person thus "immortalized" is an interesting study (says The London Star). The well-known street near Covent Garden which is almost entirely given over to book publishers—Henrietta Street—was built in 1637, and gets its name from Queen Henrietta Maria, the handsome consort of Charles I. Queens, indeed, have given their names to many streets. The memory of William IV's gentle and beautiful queen is kept alive in Adelaide Street, which appropriately turns out of King William Street near Strand, called after Catherine of Braganza, the queen of Charles II, and Catherine Court in the City, so named in honor of the Empress Catherine, who was formerly the consort of Peter the Great of Russia, and who visited London in the early eighteenth century. There are countless streets bearing simple feminine names—Olive Street, Constance Street, Mary Street, and others, whose derivation is lost. But it is interesting to note that Bevis Street, in the East End, is named after a Bevis, the "Beggars' Daughter" of Red-nail Green, whose story is told in the famous Elizabethan ballad, while Emma Street, not far away in Shoreditch, is supposed to originate from a notorious fourteenth century witch.

The man with but one idea in his head is sure to exaggerate that to top-heaviness, and thus he loses his equilibrium.—AARON HILL.

Note and Comment

By R. B. D.

As a consequence of a constitutional infirmity or besetting sin, letters from readers are accumulating upon our desk. We can deal with only two letters today, and we give them precedence because they are from ladies and prove that after all we still have a few lady friends in Victoria and the districts round about the city. One of the letters was a source of serious embarrassment and the other produced a blush which spread until it reached the roots of what is left of the hair upon our head. And that is saying something, as the active and energetic office boy says, for it is many a long year since any woman said anything to us that caused the blood to rush from our heart and produce a radiant glow upon our features.

Victoria, B.C.
Nov. 18, 1929.
Dear R.B.D.—Can you tell me why they played a queer trick on the bagpipes at the Armistice service last Monday, November 11? The ceremony was so beautiful, too lovely to be spoiled by such weird music.

I would appreciate very much the meaning of such, then perhaps on a future occasion I will understand. As a subscriber to The Daily Colonist, and a reader of your column, I thank you.

Yours faithfully,

ENGLISH WIDOW.

Under any circumstances that letter would be a source of embarrassment to us. Under circumstances which are our own fault the letter is doubly embarrassing. If we have incurred the ill-will of many Scottish people and the mild displeasure of Mr. Robert Connell by our criticism of the policies of Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald, what might our position be if we were to attempt to discuss critically the queer tunes and the weird music of the bagpipes? The music of the bagpipes may seem weird and queer to some people. We have seen a score of bagpipe music and we have seen a score of jazz music, and they both looked queerer and weirder than some of the handwriting of the great editors we have seen in our earlier days. But, on the other hand, when the apparently queer handwriting was reproduced in print, we have heard the result pronounced sublime.

So it is with the musical scores prepared for the pipes. When reproduced in sound, we have heard the result pronounced as music fit for the ears of the gods. We even have heard it said that the first music heard in the world was played upon the pipes by the Serpent in the Garden of Eden, and it was so seductive that it was directly responsible for the fall of Man and all the later woes of Mankind. The pipe music that seemed so weird and queer to our correspondent and to spoil the beauty and mar the solemnity of the Armistice Day services was probably a lament, and brave men who died that their country might live.

On the other hand, has our correspondent ever heard a large body of men marching to the music of the bagpipes? That is a sight worth seeing and a sound worth listening to, although there are extreme pacifists who say that all sights and sounds which appear to glorify war and stimulate martial emotions should neither be seen nor heard upon our streets. The extreme pacifists, who appear to be increasing and multiplying, go even farther than that. They say that all the literature in the textbooks in use in our schools should be purged of every story which tells of the heroic deeds of gallant men. If that is what we are coming to, we are glad to have lived in an earlier if more barbarous day, for in our school days when a new textbook was placed in our hands we were never content until we had read every extract in it from the prose and poetic works of the authors who wrote tales about the performance of gallant deeds upon land and sea. Of course the boys of the present generation may be different. They may prefer reading "Mary Had a Little Lamb" until they have committed to memory to give them the story of Sir Richard Grenville and the battles he waged in the gallant little Revenge.

At the dinner recently given by the Prince of Wales to the veterans who had won the Victoria Cross, His Royal Highness made a speech which has been almost universally acclaimed as a model of its kind. The following portion of the speech is specially applicable to the matter we have been discussing. Here it is: "Gentlemen, you are the recipients of an honor which is true, can only be won in time of war, and is not a wise man today, who having learned what war means, does not pray that it may never come again in his lifetime. But that fact only enhances the value of the Cross, for it is a certificate and symbol of the qualities of those qualities which, though war called them forth, are really the qualities of peace—the qualities of a cool head and an undaunted heart, fearless disregard of self, all these qualities, which are summed up in the brief legend engraved on the Cross itself. And if any man thinks "valor" is only called for in fighting out one's own opinion in a field of battle he must think have a very distorted view of the life we lead in this world of ours."

The other letter asks us to do something which we think is more likely to be done if we publish the letter in full, with the exception of the signature, which the writer may prefer not to have disclosed:

Saanich, 17-11-29.
Dear R.B.D.—I know you must be a very busy individual. But it is well known that it is the busy people who find time to do the things that need to be done. I don't know you personally, but one cannot write a column in The Colonist day after day without disclosing something of his personality to his readers, and from a long course of reading I have formed the opinion that you have a very sympathetic ear for tales of woe, and I am convinced that many a wrong has been pointed out to existence on the keys of your trusty typewriter.

This is my apology for troubling you. I had occasion to visit a friend at the Jubilee Hospital yesterday (Saturday), and not possessing a car of my own—I am too old to drive one even if I could afford it—I had to depend on the B.C.E.R. for transportation. When I came out of the building it was raining. Of course we are very fortunate in our climate. You have often remarked the fact that it is raining when the sun has arrived. I remembered there used to be a shelter of sorts on that spot. Remembered it with regret that it was no longer there. True, it was no ornament. But I could have forgiven that for the sake of its usefulness. I wondered why it has never been replaced by a suitable structure for the convenience of those who have to wait there, and it occurred to me that the much read B.C.E.R. might drop a hint in the proper quarter.

Yours truly,

On a lot located at the southeast corner of Satellite Road and Beach Drive, close to the Beach Hotel, Col. J. B. Branfoot, is to be erected by March 1 next, for Mrs. J. B. Branfoot, an apartment house containing five suites of five rooms each at an approximate cost of $40,000, and to be constructed under the direct supervision of Mr. J. Moxam.

The property is ideally situated, on one of the highest parts of the city, with a frontage of 115 feet on Beach Drive, the sale being completed yesterday morning by Pemberton & Son.

The building will overlook the sea from three sides, all living and dining-rooms overlooking the water, and will be modern and up to date in every way. The suites will contain two bedrooms, a living-room, dining-room and bathroom. The floors will be of hardwood. Some of the features to be installed will be shower baths, electric ranges and electric fridges. It will be heated throughout with automatic devices. Plans were prepared by Mr. Percy Fox, and show a structure of Tudor style, finished in stucco and half timber.

Pipers and all other persons interested in any way in the playing of the bagpipes, who are not content with a mere visit, during the Summer the three provincial exhibitions secure special rates over the province, but when a single exhibition is held, and that is now recognized to be a fair of true provincial significance, only a part of the province secures the special traveling rates.

LAUGH

Laugh! when the icy Winter comes, laughs when the north wind blows.

'Tis worse when love to hate succumbs, Or cancer kills a rose!

Laugh! when thy work begins to pall, Laugh! when thy nights are long.

'Tis worse to have no friends at all, Or but false friends to own.

Laugh! when thy daily burdens kill, Laugh! when thy skies are grey.

'Tis worse when love hath lost its thrill, And hope hath fled away.

Laugh! as misfortune comes thy way, Laugh! at ill-health or pain.

'Tis worse when love hath gone to stay, And heartaches still remain.

REPORT MADE ON CAMPAIGN TO AID BLIND

Collections Are Approximately at $83,000—Final Total Expected to Reach $87,000 Mark

ADVISORY BOARD TO BE APPOINTED

At a meeting of the board of management of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind, Western Division, held at 206 Royal Trust Building, a report was made on the result of the recent campaign for the blind of British Columbia held in the cities of Vancouver, Victoria and New Westminster, and it was stated that approximately $83,000 was collected up to the present time, and that there are still subscriptions coming in and more to hear from. It is reasonably expected that the final total will be in the neighborhood of $87,000.

At this meeting it was resolved that an advisory board be appointed to act in conjunction with the present board in the matter of the disposition of the funds raised by this campaign, and in connection with the building of a new building to house the various departments of the institute. This advisory board consists of Messrs. W. J. Blake Wilson, Roy Brown, E. W. Lamprey, Charles Murphy, Gordon Farrell, M. H. Leggett, K. J. Burns and Eric Hamer, of Vancouver; Frank Barnard and Mr. P. Landsberg, of Victoria; and Messrs. D. S. Curtis and A. Wells Gray, of New Westminster.

A vote of thanks was moved to the campaign committee, including all helpers and contributors who were so essentially responsible for the achievement of the successful result of the campaign. Dr. John A. MacDonald, national field secretary of the institute and organizer and chief executive of the campaign, received the heartfelt congratulations and warmest thanks from the board of management. Dr. MacDonald, with Mrs. MacDonald, whose cheerfulness, energy, optimism and efficiency inspired all those who were associated with her, left for their home in Halifax last night.

RATES TO WINTER FAIR, VANCOUVER

Sir.—The fifth annual Winter Fair is to be held, commencing on November 27, at Vancouver, and from advertisements it was noted that special rates on the railways had been granted, but no reference to Vancouver Island points was made. The matter was taken up on behalf of our members who wish to make the trip, but they did not see why, as the fair is of provincial importance and is recognized by the Government as such, being made a substantial grant, etc., that a part of the province should be able to take advantage of the ordinary rates.

I have now received final word from the general manager, Captain Matheson, at Vancouver, that he has failed to get the same privilege extended to the Island that have been extended to all mainland points, and so we must pay the ordinary fares and rates.

It appears to our organization an unfortunate state of affairs, as many now wish to make the trip, as the fair has grown in importance and is well worth a visit. During the Summer the three provincial exhibitions secure special rates over the province, but when a single exhibition is held, and that is now recognized to be a fair of true provincial significance, only a part of the province secures the special traveling rates.

Captain Matheson assures me he is taking active steps this Winter to try and get this discrimination removed, but for future fairs, and he would appreciate assistance, as it is not an oversight by the Vancouver association, but the refusal of the Canadian Passenger Association to consider that sufficient business would arise from Vancouver Island points to warrant reduction of rates. The point we wish to make is that this is a place up to a disadvantage on Vancouver Island, and is not conducive to the building up of a real provincial-wide Winter Fair. Vancouver Island produces a substantial part of the agricultural products of the province, this probably amounting to twelve to fourteen millions of dollars out of about seventy millions and should certainly be granted the same privileges as other portions of the province.

We regret that our efforts have failed to secure the extension that was quite reasonable for us to expect, but hope that publicity of the situation will bring relief for the future.

Sooke Hunting Tragedy

Sir.—I have read with concern, which I hope the whole community shares, particulars of the lamentable tragedy in the hunting field at Sooke a day or two ago and the report of evidence and verdict of the coroner's jury. I am naturally, in view of my long active association with game matters and responsibility for regulations in former days, specially concerned, both from the point of view of a citizen and of game administration.

Looking back to the many amendments and, I hope, improvements, in regulations from time to time, there is none of which I am prouder than the prohibiting of shooting deer. The overwhelming consensus of sound game conservationists in positive respect of a strict "buck" law, but one of the outstanding and perhaps not less important values in the no-deer law was the protection of human life and incidentally mercy to the beast itself. There have been field tragedies in nearly every year heretofore even with the "buck" law, ing there would be much more sympathy and tolerance between citizens of different parts of Canada if we really understood each other's problems.

In asking the question, "Is it worth at $1 a bushel a paying proposition?" your correspondent evidently loses sight of the fact that decreased yields raise production costs. My answer is with yields reaped this year it is a losing proposition.

If the Wheat Pool should collapse the loss will fall on the producers, as banks are entitled to call for more cover or margin if prices decline and arrangements for any margin can be made if necessary.

I am in favor of any producers' pool which is necessary to ensure producers a fair standard of living and presume this applies to the potato pool, an institution I know nothing of, but would be pleased to learn about.

Having answered three questions might I ask one: Is your correspondent in favor of trade unions?

TRIBUTE PAID TO LATE MAJOR A. G. SARGISON

Well-Known Journalist Laid to Rest With Full Military Honors—Beautiful Floral Offerings

MANY ATTEND FUNERAL RITES

Representatives of the civil, military, journalistic and business life of Victoria, and many pioneer citizens, yesterday paid their last respects to the late Major Albert George Sargison, an assistant news editor of The Colonist, who was laid to rest in Ross Bay Cemetery with full military honors.

The popularity and high esteem in which Major Sargison was held in the community, where he had resided for over half a century, and with which he was actively identified by his association with many organizations and numerous movements for the promotion of the welfare of his beloved country, was evidenced by the large congregation which attended the funeral rites at Hayward's B.C. Funeral Parlors.

The simple yet impressive service was conducted at the chapel by Rev. A. de B. Owen, rector of the Church of Our Lord. The hymns sung were "Onward, Christian Soldiers" and "Nearer, My God, to Thee." Mr. Owen read the Scripture passage from I Corinthians, xv, and offered prayer.

The casket was carried on the gun carriage, draped with the Union Jack, the firing party, composed of members of the Princess Patricia Canadian Light Infantry, being in charge of Sergeant Pink and the gun carriage in charge of Sergeant Guest.

Rev. Major William Barton, chaplain of the Fifth B.C. Coast Brigade, Canadian Artillery, of which the late Major Sargison was formerly an active member, officiated at the committal service at the graveside. Three volleys were fired over the grave.

Century Old Log House

THIS log house, over a hundred years old, stands on the farm of George Currie, Esquimaux Township, Ont., two miles north of Hornby. It was built by the present owner's grandfather, George Currie, after he came out from Scotland and settled on the farm, over a century ago. The land was covered with huge pine trees which Mr. Currie cut down himself. Some of the hand-hewn logs were used in building the house. It has been vacant for a number of years.

Memory of Prince Of Wales Amazes Lt.-Col. Cy Peck

SOUTHAMPTON, Eng., Nov. 21.—Lieut.-Col. G. W. Peck, V.C., one of the Canadian officers at the Prince of Wales' Armistice dinner to the V.C.'s of the Empire, sailed for New York on the Homeric yesterday. He commented on the remarkable memory of the Prince.

"I had quite a long talk with him," he said, "and all the time he was inquiring about various members of my brigade. His knowledge of them, when one considers the number of brigades he came in touch with, amazed me."

Blind Campaign to Continue, Although Office Is Closed

YESTERDAY morning Victoria's fund in aid of the blind of British Columbia had reached the sum of $1,404.74. During the course of the day, however, Mr. Fred Landsberg, chairman of the campaign committee, received a further donation of $1,000, and several smaller donations, amounting to about $200. Among the latter were two five-dollar bills which had been found on the street, and were brought to campaign headquarters by the finder. This afternoon the office on Broad Street will be finally closed, and those still having subscription cards or being desirous of making donations, are asked to call at Mr. Landsberg's office at 737 Fort Street. Mr. Landsberg intends to keep the fund open for subscriptions until the sum of $50,000, to which Victoria stands committed, has been raised.

COLD OR COLDER WINTER FORECAST

Mr. Napier Denison Predicts Repetition of Last Winter Though It May Be More Arcticlike

SEATTLE, Nov. 21.—In an interview published by The Seattle Times today, Mr. Napier Denison, director of the Dominion Meteorological Observatory at Victoria, B.C., who last Spring forecast the abnormally dry summer and fall in the Pacific Northwest, today suggested that the coming winter, the world over, would be as cold, or colder, than last year. Statistics show that last winter was the coldest in 100 years in Northern Europe and Asia, Mr. Denison said. While he hopes that the rigors of the coming winter will not be as severe as before, his study of meteorological facts pointed to a historical repetition, he said. As for Puget Sound weather, Mr. Denison said, precipitation may continue light for months to come. "Research and study justifies the statement that our weather comes in cycles," Mr. Denison said. "From a study of more than thirty years of the great weather changes on this North Pacific Coast, I am convinced that they are part of the rhythmic changes ever active throughout our vast ocean of air, which when better known will make it possible to forecast the weather months or even a year in advance. "This information would be of great practical value to farmers and forest fire protection services and to the great hydro-electric power-producing organizations." Mr. Denison based his prediction of a cold winter on "abnormal movements of the areas of both high and low barometric pressure on the Pacific Ocean and over the continent."

He pointed out that cold was again setting down over Europe, and said that a general snow blockade had been reported in Northern Italy.

TO BRING BACK CAPTAIN VOSS' FAMOUS CANOE

Little Craft to Be Placed in Provincial Archives by Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau

CARRIED CREW OF TWO ROUND WORLD

It will be of great interest to many people to learn that the Indian war canoe, "The Old Tillikum," in which Captain Voss, of Victoria, circumnavigated the world, is to be brought back to Victoria from England by the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau.

Yesterday afternoon the directors of the bureau agreed to pay all reasonable charges connected with transport and to request the office of the Attorney-General of British Columbia to supervise the shipment. The little craft put to sea carrying Captain Voss and Mr. Norman Luxton, a well-known newspaperman, who, however, soon tired of the adventure. He was replaced by another man whom Captain Voss enlisted in the adventure, and the "Old Tillikum" finally grounded on the sandy shore of Margate, in Kent, in the year 1905.

Later the canoe created much interest at the Earl's Court Exhibition, and finally found her way to a little island at the mouth of the Thames, where she has lain to the present day.

It is the intention of the publicity bureau to restore the "Old Tillikum," to equip her with a brass plate, and to have her placed among the provincial relics.

Hospitality that gratifies itself at the expense of the subject instead of gratifying the subject at its own expense is, in fact, no hospitality at all.

TO PRESS FOR TRANSCANADA MOTOR ROAD

Western Division of C.A.A. Asks Premier King to State Policy Regarding Road Across Dominion

NEXT GATHERING TO COME TO COAST

At last Friday evening's session of the conference of the Western Section, Canadian Automobile Association, which was held at the Palliser Hotel, Calgary, it was decided to dispatch to Mr. Hon. Mackenzie King, the Prime Minister, a telegram which stressed the desirability of his making an early announcement that the policy of the Government was for the early construction of a transcanada highway, which should stretch from coast to coast.

The wording of the telegram was as follows:

"The conference of Western Section, Canadian Automobile Association, composed of delegates from Manitoba Motor League, Saskatchewan Motor Club, Alberta Motor Association, and Auto Club of British Columbia, representing over 400,000 automobile owners in four provinces, respectfully suggest to you that the pronouncement by you of policy which will have effect of early commencement and rapid construction of transcanada highway connecting East and West, made during your present Western trip, would meet with undoubted approval of all the people in Canada, particularly the people of Western Canada. In the opinion of the conference the construction of such a road would have a material bearing on greater Canadian unity."

FEDERAL CONTROL After considerable debate it was also decided that each provincial club should approach its own provincial government with the object of turning over to the Federal Government the absolute control of those portions of the transcanada highway which would lie within their boundaries.

The provincial governments, therefore, will be asked to interest the Government at Ottawa in the appropriation of the right-of-way, as well as in the building and maintenance of the highway.

It was unanimously agreed that no stone should be left unturned in pressing forward an active campaign between now and the next federal election, which should have for its subject the interesting of the people of Canada in the possibilities which would be opened up by the building of a highway such as had been suggested.

UNIFORMITY DESIRED Many questions involving uniform standards of emergency road service, uniform tourist information, uniform highway traffic acts and uniform highway markings were discussed.

Rev. M. W. J. Bruce, of Victoria, vice-president of the Automobile Club of British Columbia, extended to the conference an invitation to hold its next meeting in Vancouver or Victoria, at a time which will be set at a later date and, although the invitation was not officially accepted, it is understood that the next meeting will be held in one of these two cities.

PUBLICITY EMPHASIZED It is intended that steps shall be taken to give greater publicity to the automobile association by means of newspapers, posters and film, and it was resolved to make an immediate appeal to the various organizations in the way of publicity.

ITALIAN ARTISTS' WORK SHOWN

An unusually interesting collection of pictures, brought from Italy recently by Dr. L. S. Kilnick, M.S.A., D.Sc., president of the University of British Columbia, is on view in the library of Victoria College today. These pictures, which were viewed yesterday by students from Victoria High School and Victoria College, are photographs of famous paintings and have been colored in oils by skilled modern artists. Apart from their beauty and interest from a collector's standpoint, such pictures have great value informatively, as the artists who colored them have attempted to reproduce with meticulous delicacy the exact tints of the originals. Among the famous artists represented in the collection are Raphael, some of whose Madonnas are found: Van Dyck, Count, Mengs, Albani, Leonardo da Vinci, Fra Angelico, Gherardo, Pintorocchio, Titian, Sebastiano del Piombo, Andrea del Sarto, Eugene Burnand, Botticelli, Morels, Ribera, Holbein, Murillo and Perugino.

ST. ANN'S PUPILS TO GIVE RECITAL

There will be prizes for amateurs, music and refreshments. Amateurs' applications should be sent in to Mrs. Howcroft, corner of Burnside and Orillia, up to Saturday night.

GUILD OF HEALTH

There will be a fellowship meeting of the Guild of Health this evening, commencing at 8 o'clock, in the parlors of the Young Women's Christian Association. A cordial invitation is extended to all guild members. There will be a short informal programme and all are requested to do their share in making the evening a success. Refreshments will be served during the latter part of the evening.

C.P.R. SOCIAL CLUB

Owing to the Empress Hotel ballroom being renovated it has been necessary for the dance committee to cancel the dance which was to be held on November 30. This event will now take place on Saturday, December 7, at the usual time.

In response to many requests from patrons, it has been decided to go back to Thursday instead of Saturday, as the day to hold usual fortnightly dances, and this will be in effect for the balance of the season beginning on December 12. Under these unusual circumstances, club members and patrons will have two dances within six days, which will make up for the delay this month.

SALVATION ARMY

MAKES ITS APPEAL

Proceeds of Tomorrow's Tag Day to Assist With Rescue Work at Grace Hospital

The Salvation Army is meeting with a good response to their request for taggers to assist in the appeal that is to be made on Saturday, the day being designated as "Babies' Day," as the proceeds are devoted to the rescue work of the Army in British Columbia.

During the past eighteen months 300 girls and their babies have been cared for in the Grace Hospital, Vancouver, those seeking admittance coming from all parts of the province and Vancouver Island. On all the main street corners the taggers will be busy from early morning, the tag being a neat button, from which looks out a smiling baby's face.

The headquarters for the tag day will be at the Clarendon on Broad Street, and Adjutant J. Sharp, who is in charge of the appeal, will be pleased to hear from any who can help in the tagging, and who will telephone 3695K.

MEDICAL MEN NOW FOUND COLLEGE

Royal Canadian College of Physicians Established at Influential Meeting at Ottawa

OTTAWA, Nov. 21.—The Royal Canadian College of Physicians and Surgeons came into being yesterday, when sixty leading figures in Canadian medicine met here. The Royal College was provided for at the last session of Parliament, and has as its purpose the foundation of a standard of specialization in the medical profession. Toronto was chosen as the headquarters of the college.

Officers were elected as follows: President, Dr. John C. Meakins, Montreal; vice-presidents, Dr. F. N. G. Starr and Dr. Duncan Graham, both of Toronto; registrar-secretary, Dr. T. C. Routley, Toronto. The original charter fellows, as designated in the Act of Parliament establishing the college, comprise university professors in medicine in the nine medical schools in Canada. About sixty of these were present yesterday and were sworn in.

The first to be honored by election as a Fellow of the Royal College of Physicians was Dr. T. C. Routley, of Toronto.

The council conferred this honor on Dr. Routley for his work in organized medicine in Canada.

Cantata on Monday

The sacred cantata, "Holy City," will be given in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church on Monday evening at 8:15 o'clock. This beautiful cantata, written by Alfred R. Gaul, one of the modern English composers, was completed with the additional prelude in the year 1901, and is considered as his most beautiful work. It consists of wonderful choruses, which are to be rendered by an augmented choir of forty voices, and solos for soprano, contralto, tenor and baritone. The ladies' chorus is particularly beautiful with the soprano and baritone obligato taking the theme throughout. "Lull the Cherub Hosts." The solos will be taken by Miss Isabel Crawford, soprano; Mrs. Fred W. Hawes, contralto; Mr. William Draper, tenor, and Mr. A. W. Trevett, baritone. Mr. Jesse Longfield will preside at the organ and Mr. Edward Parsons at the piano.

Although Lord Dewar is a bachelor, and apparently a confirmed bachelor, he seemingly entertains a high appreciation of the fair sex, judging by some of the witty sayings he fires off about them from time to time.

Here are a few of the best: "The road to success is filled with women pushing their husbands along." "No man is so good but a woman can make him better." "A golden wedding is when a couple have gone fifty-fifty."

At The Playhouses

COLUMBIA "The Red Sword," presented with an exceptional cast that includes such film favorites as Carmel Myers, Marion Nixon, William Collier, Jr., and Allan Roscoe, this gripping depiction of tragedy and romance in the lives of Russian peasants, Cossacks and domineering officers in pre-war days, has been acclaimed as one of the outstanding screen offerings of the season.

PLAYHOUSE Henry Vibart is a distinguished actor who has played hundreds of parts on both stage and screen. He has played elderly roles in both British and American films. Recent films in which he has appeared are "Popples of Flanders," "Land of Hope and Glory," and "Guinevere." In "The Physician," now playing at the Playhouse Theatre, he plays the leading role.

CAPITOL Rapid-fire action characterizes every minute of "The Wagon Trail," Ken Maynard's Universal picture which opened at the Capitol Theatre yesterday. It is the story of a Western with songs and dialogue, Maynard, with the aid of his famous horse, "Tarzan," opens a new bag of riding tricks that confirms him in his position as a leading Western star. There is fighting and riding of every kind and variety throughout the picture.

DOMINION "The Gamblers," Warner Bros.' latest all-talking picture, now at the Dominion Theatre, is a picture to date. It is a Vitaphone version of Charles Klein's famous stage play of the same name. J. Grubb Alexander adapted it for the screen, and the megaphone, or rather, what corresponds to the megaphone in silent picture-making, was handled by Michael Curtiz. The all-star cast includes H. B. Warner, Lois Wilson, Jason Robards, George Fawcett, Johnny Arthur, Frank Campeau, Pauline Garon and Charles Selton.

"Broadway" Is All-Language Talking Picture

It was between scenes out on the "Broadway" set at Universal, and the atmosphere was just a little bit high-bat.

Paul Fejos, the director of this big sound special, coming Monday to the Capitol Theatre, who is also a full-fledged doctor and surgeon, was holding forth a trifle about this and that. Billy Reller, his assistant, was listening.

So were Glenn Tryon, the star, and Merna Kennedy, his leading woman. Evelyn Brent, the "Pearl" of the play, and Oda Harlan also was lending an attentive ear—each, not between them—as Fejos discoursed on the modern miracle of the talkies.

"Why," he said, "we were recording in all sorts of languages—in French, German, Italian, Spanish, Hungarian—"

It was then that Hal Mohr, the irrepressible cameraman who photographed the $1,000,000 super-super, broke in. "Yes, doctor," he said, "and we even tried English, didn't we?"

"Lowland Wolf" Will Be Vehicle For Noted Actor

A heavy demand for seats is expected when the box office opens today for the advance sale for "The Lowland Wolf," in which Sir John Martin Harvey will be seen at the Royal Victoria Theatre for the first time.

In this phenomenally successful Spanish play both Sir John and Lady Martin Harvey (Miss N. de Silva) have roles that enable them to display to the full the particular and popular talents they have developed in their long partnership before the public as representatives of the higher branch of British theatrical enterprise. Miss de Silva, as Maria, presents a character now pathetic, now inspiring, always charming. Maria is the object of her master's passion, then the wife of his shepherd, and finally the scornful woman who sees her employer, "the lowland wolf," slain by her husband, whom she has loved and whom she follows back to the hills.

Seats may also be procured for the last Canadian performances of "The Only Way," which will be the offering for the last three days of the same week, when the beloved Sidney Carton will make his final bow.

Seven Plays on List for Stratford Festival Company

So fine was the success of the Stratford-upon-Avon Festival Company in Canada and the United States last year that the governors of the Shakespeare Memorial Theatre, from whence the organization comes, again sends the players overseas to revisit the cities whose people, twelve months ago, responded so generously to the call of the Shakespearean drama. The company will appear at the Royal Victoria Theatre on Monday, December 2, for an engagement of one week.

Since its appearance in Canada last season, the company has played a season of twenty weeks at the Memorial Theatre in Stratford and has added five plays to its repertory. These productions were notable dramatic events in England, and were highly praised by the British press.

The repertory arranged for the week in Victoria is as follows: Monday evening, "Much Ado About Nothing"; Tuesday, "Romeo and Juliet"; Wednesday matinee, "A Midsummer Night's Dream"; Wednesday evening, "The Merry Wives of Windsor"; Thursday evening, "Hamlet"; Friday evening, "Twelfth Night"; Saturday matinee, "Macbeth"; Saturday evening, "A Midsummer Night's Dream."

Jack Miner Has Made Great Bird Sanctuary in Ontario; Wild Fowl Come in Myriads

Jack Miner's bird sanctuary, just north of Kingsville, in Essex County, is famous on two continents.

It is a common sight during the April northward flight to see as many as 8,000 wild Canadian honkers—geese—resting and feeding there and a few of them remain all summer. Other regular visitors to his sanctuary include whistling swans, different species of wild duck, quail, pheasants, blackbirds, starlings, robins, doves, martins, swallows, cardinals and many varieties of small birds.

Jack Miner's bird sanctuary is a point of pilgrimage for tourists from the United States and Canada. It is the centre from which has spread an effective doctrine of bird life preservation. Its importance is recognized by grants from the Provincial and Dominion governments and by amendments to the Migratory Birds Acts of the United States and Canada.

SHOWPLACE OF COUNTY

It is not only one of the showplaces of Essex County, but a sight unique throughout the world. The story of the great development of Jack Miner's bird sanctuary and of his influence in preserving the wild birds of North America is the story of long years of struggle and patient effort by a once poor farmer with a fine ideal. The son of poor farmers of Leicestershire stock who immigrated from Ohio to Essex County, Jack Miner worked hard in his youth and had time to learn to read or write until he was thirty-three. Fifty years ago, when the Miners settled there, the county abounded with waterfowl which young Jack sought with his gun. He began to take a keen interest in the life and habits of the birds and gradually the enthusiasm of the naturalist overcame the opportunist's quest for slaughter.

Jonathan Crop Is Disposed of By B.C. Growers

VERNON, B.C., Nov. 21.—Acting together, the Associated Growers and Sales Service have made a cleanup of the bulk Jonathans. These have been sold to the Provincial Produce Company, Winnipeg, on a basis upon which there is to be no blow backs. The price has not been divulged.

There is a fair movement of fruit these weeks. The New York market is reported to be making fair returns. Sales Service reports sales of onions to Halifax, Nova Scotia, and the opinion is expressed that the tonnage held will not prove excessive when shrinkage is taken. In other words, the quantity of really good onions is not very large.

Last week the Associated Growers distributed $435,597 to the various locals as an advance on unclosed apple pools.

First All-Talking Comedy Fall of Harold Lloyd Fun

Harold Lloyd has made such a phenomenal success because his comedies always have been clean fun that the kiddies as well as the grown folks can understand and enjoy. Now he has produced his first all-talking comedy, "Welcome Danger," which comes to the Dominion Theatre for six days starting Monday.

Castling all the traditions of the talking screen aside, Lloyd has brought to the screen a real feature length laugh comedy, with just as much action packed in it as he ever put in his silent comedies, and that was plenty!

Harold Lloyd is the meek young botanist, whose chief ambition in life is to perfect a new flower. Fate intervenes, and he is whisked off to San Francisco to take the place his father had occupied in the community years before—that of the demon police officer, whose very name was law. Here he has to match wits with the underground Chinatown, and in a series of hair-breadth escapes he produces some of the most laughable comedy ever brought to the screen, sound or silent.

A lady was entertaining the small son of her married friend. "Are you quite sure you can cut your meat, Willie," she asked after watching him a moment. "Oh, yes," he replied without looking up. "We often have it as tough as this at home."—The Lyre.

GRACIOUS as the manners of an accomplished hostess... sparkling as the conversation at its dinner table... mellow as spacious hospitality... such is the quality of "Canada Dry."

How its "dryness" adds zest to dinner! How its marvelous flavor complements the savor of food! Its mildness and mellowness are like that of some rare old wine. And the subtle suggestion of ginger to its taste gives it a distinction, a preference which has won the approving nod of connoisseurs.

BASEBALL CLUBS SPLIT JUICIEST MELON IN YEARS

Victoria Senior Amateur Baseball League Winds Up Successful Season at Semi-Annual Parley

GATE RECEIPTS IN EXCESS OF $2,000

The five clubs in the Victoria Senior Amateur Baseball League split the juiciest melon in many years at the adjourned semi-annual meeting, held at the Y.M.C.A. last night. The financial statement submitted by the secretary-treasurer, S. Thomas, showed a balance of $1,683.87, over $1,200 at realized in league and exhibition games, while the championship play-off, introduced for the first time last season, proved an overwhelming success. In this series of twelve games the league cleared close to $1,000. The season's gate receipts exceeded $2,000.

Some idea as to the successful season in British Columbia generally in baseball circles, will be gathered from the fact that the local league received $215.14 from the British Columbia Baseball Association as their share of the special fund.

Directors will meet tomorrow to name Harmon's successor. Tonight the name of Sheldon Clark, millionaire oil man and Chicago sportsman, stood out among the operations as the most likely to take the post.

Davies Awarded Decision Over Tacoma Fighter

PORT ANGELES, Wash., Nov. 21.—Jumbo Davies, clever bantamweight from Victoria, B.C., won a six-round decision over Ludwig Jones, of Tacoma, former Pacific Coast champion, here tonight, in the main event, under the auspices of the Pacific Club. Johnny Duffy, former Boston fighter, but now a resident of Victoria, gained a six-round draw with Len Locken, of Tacoma, in the semi-wind-up attraction.

BURGESS ANXIOUS TO MEET A. DAVIES

Shifty English Featherweight Willing to Mix With Local Flash Within Three Weeks

Tommy Burgess, shifty English featherweight, who showed here against Tommy Fielding two years in Victoria, B.C., is clamoring for a meeting to return to the squared circle. Burgess, who resided here for a short time, has returned to the Mainland, and is now under the managerial wing of Jack Cranham.

He is anxious to get a shot at Albie Davies, Victoria's leading featherweight. Telegraphic information received here yesterday stated that Burgess was willing to meet Davies in a local ring in a ten-round bout within the next three weeks. The mix, if arranged, should be a good one, and should give the local flash an opportunity of showing his ability with a fast, clever and shifty glove-thrower such as Burgess is.

Manchester Handicap To Be Run Tomorrow

Twenty-One Thoroughbreds Expected to Face Starter in Final Flat Racing Classic—Silverstead Favored in Betting

MANCHESTER, Nov. 21.—The final handicap of the flat racing season in England, the Manchester Handicap, to be run on Saturday, provides an interesting problem. The final acceptances today left twenty-one horses in the race and the field will certainly not drop much below a score of horses. Sir Joshua, winner of the Derby Cup a few days ago, was not expected to shoulder the weight penalty he thus incurred and he has been taken out of the race, along with Star Eagle, a persistent tip since the entries were published.

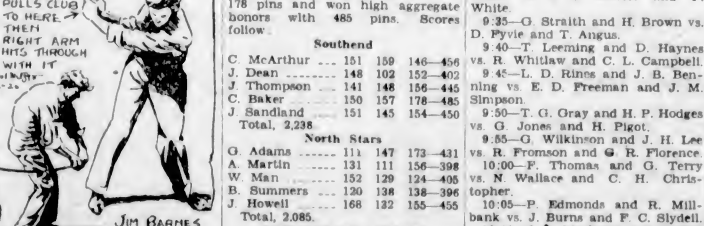

Silverstead has displaced Saracen, last year's winner, as the favorite. A great favorite with the North Country race fans here is Silver Hussar, who will carry a lot of money. He goes to India after the race.

The fact that Libertine will start instead of his stablemate, Bonny Boy, who was only two short heads behind Sir Joshua in the Derby Cup, indicates that Libertine will be given serious consideration.

Sir Charles Hyde also has an excellent chance with Baytown, ridden by the experienced Beary. The race will be over the mile and a half distance.

The final three-year-olds with probable jockeys and weights in the race, are: Arbalester, 115 pounds; Ox, 115 pounds; and Baytown, 115 pounds.

Barnes Pulls Down With Straight Left

By SOL METZGER
The dominant idea in hitting a golf ball is to pull down on the straight left arm to the hitting area to the point where you lifted or cocked the club with your wrists after taking it back as far as you could with a straight left arm and then hit through with a straight right arm. That is both the theory and practice of golf.

Jim Barnes does it, as the sketches show. While the dominant idea is simple, certain other factors enter into this important part of the stroke. Otherwise these two ideas cannot be carried out correctly, even though the swing through is a hit with the hands.

We'll take up the first of these factors—the braced right hip—in the next article.

Cambridge and Oxford Rugby Stated Dec. 10

LONDON, Nov. 21.—Oxford's chances of winning the interuniversity Rugby match with Cambridge this year were very much enhanced when the Dark Blue defeated the Major Stanley fifteen by 26 points to 8, in a trial game today. The Oxford team included five South Africans and one New Zealander. The Oxford and Cambridge match will be played on December 10.

ACTION GALORE PROMISED FANS ON FIGHT CARD

Port Angeles Pugilistic Stars, to Show Here Tomorrow Night, Reported to Be Heavy Sluggers

LOCAL LADS ARE IN GOOD SHAPE

Here's the complete card for the second flat fight of the present season, which will be staged at the Tillikum gymnasium tomorrow night by the Central Boxing Club. Main event, six rounds, 126 pounds—Wing Hay, Victoria, vs. A. Groves, Port Angeles.

Special event, six rounds, 145 pounds—Kid Stubbs, Victoria, vs. Johnny Evans, Port Angeles.

Four rounds, 135 pounds, Johnny Duffy, Victoria, vs. G. Smith, Port Angeles.

Four rounds, 135 pounds—Danny Pastore, Victoria, vs. Eddie Mayo, Port Angeles.

Four rounds, 140 pounds—A. B. Jennings, Victoria, vs. Eddie Judson, Port Angeles.

The first mix is scheduled to start at 8:45 o'clock. Reports from Port Angeles state that the contingent of glove-throwers being brought over to do battle with the local pugs are boys who make action their middle name.

Thurston, away from the squared circle for a few months, is now in the pink of condition and promises to make the going plenty tough for his American opponent.

Johnny Evans, who battles Kid Stubbs over the same distance, is expected to put up a good scrap with the rugged, hard-hitting local brawler.

G. Smith, who has been matched with the shifty Johnny Duffy, will have to know something about the glove-throwing racket to get the call over the recent addition to Victoria's list of fighters. Duffy appeared against Danny Pastore on the last card, and certainly knows his stuff.

Eddie Mayo and Pastore will travel four rounds, or, in what promises action if nothing else, the A. B. Jennings, rugged local boxer, should put up an interesting mix with Judson.

There has been a steady demand for pasteborders, and indications are that the recent addition to Victoria's list of fighters, Duffy appeared against Danny Pastore on the last card, and certainly knows his stuff.

GARRISON WILL MEET WILLOWS

Keen Competition Expected to Be Seen in Division I Match of Badminton League Tonight

Garrison Clubs' band of racket wielders will clash tonight with the Willows Club in a Division I fixture of the Lower Island Badminton League on the latter's home courts.

With both team captains predicting victory, one of the best matches of the season is expected to be witnessed. The clubs are about evenly matched and C. H. Rayment, skipper of Garrison Club, has lined up his most formidable squad with high hopes of romping through to a much-needed win to keep them in the fight for division honors.

The Garrison team will take the floor as follows: Misses M. Miller, F. Oates, Nicholson, Pitts, Mrs. Gibson and Miss H. Wilson; B. Fleet, I. A. Austen-Leigh, C. Holmes, Major Gibson, W. Merion and C. H. Rayment (captain).

TOMORROW'S GAMES

Division I—South Cowichan vs. Duncan, at South Cowichan, at 7:30 o'clock.
Division III—Emmanuel Baptists vs. Fairchild Church, at Emmanuel courts.
Y.M.C.A. vs. Garrison at the Y.M.C.A.

Teams Battle Through Four Periods of Fast Hockey Without Score

3,800 Fans See Portland Squad Hold Champions to Tie in Rose City Opener—Opposing Goalies Turn In Sensational Performances

PORTLAND, Nov. 21.—The Portland Buckaroos and Vancouver, 1928 champions of the Pacific Coast Hockey League, played to a scoreless overtime game at the Coliseum here tonight.

It was the first local game of the season and was witnessed by a crowd of 3,800. The play was not brilliant, but fast, and appeared eminently satisfactory to the wildly cheering first-night crowd.

Defence play and the work of Percy Jackson, Vancouver goalie, and Aitkenhead, Portland netman, was outstanding, with the forwards unable to penetrate to the net with any consistency.

There were but three or four actually heated moments in tonight's game. One of these was in the second period, when Portland's flying wedge of forwards swept through the opposition, and bombarded little Jackson with a swarm of pucks.

In the third period Jerva, powerful Vancouver defence man, and Phillips, Lion captain and forward, took the puck on to Portland in a brilliant passing play and swept down upon Aitkenhead, who was drawn out of the net. A backhand flip by McGoldrick, Buckaroo defence man, saved the day for Portland.

MISSIS OPEN NET

In the overtime period Sanderson, Vancouver forward, missed his opportunity to save the game when, after taking the puck through the Buck defence in a splendid play, and after approaching to within three feet of the net, he took careful aim and missed by a yard.

The net was clear at the time, Aitkenhead again having been drawn out of position. The little cherub Jackson appeared to wield a charmed stick. Buck shots poured all around him at times and he shoved them off as fast as they came. Only once did he permit himself to be caught off guard, and that time clever defence prevented a score.

DOWNIE GOES WELL

Downie, diminutive and flashy Portland forward, Armstrong and Conn were outstanding, for the Bucks. Several times Downie carried the puck to within striking distance and each time Jackson saved.

Chuck Dunn and Don Cummings, Lion forwards, alternated with Jerva and Phillips in driving the puck through for the visitors. Aitkenhead, former $10,000 New York goalie, was kept busy most of the time, although the visitors had to be content most of the time with long-range shots.

Downie, speediest men on the squad, swept through the Vancouver defence ranks and stopped the puck four feet from the goal. Deflected by a skate, the rubber bounded to one side, Jackson after it. The play ended with six men in a heap and Jackson clear behind the net, sitting serenely on the puck.

First Division

Saanich Thistles vs. Victoria City at Royal Athletic Park; referee, Robb.
Esquimalt vs. Jokers at Beacon Hill; referee, Armstrong.
Victoria West vs. Five C's at Victoria West Park; referee, Payne.
Kick-offs at 2:30 o'clock.

Junior League

Oaklands vs. Victoria City at Spencer's Field.
Royal Oak vs. James Island at Hampton Road.
K. of C. vs. Sidney at Lower Central Park.
Esquimalt vs. Y.M.C.A. at Beacon Hill, upper ground.
Kick-offs at 2:30 o'clock.

Juvenile League—Division II

Saanich Thistles vs. Victoria West at Royal Athletic Park; referee, McIlroy.
Seaton England vs. Five C's at Beacon Hill, upper ground; referee, McVane.
Kick-offs at 1:15 o'clock.

THISTLES TO MEET CITY
While the task of picking the feature game on this lengthy soccer menu is no easy matter, Saanich Thistles, present leaders, who have yet to be defeated in league soccer, should have a good following in their match with Victoria City. Jokers, second berth occupants, have a tough assignment in the recently strengthened Esquimalt team, while Victoria West, who have failed to show much class in league matches, will have the Five C's to contend with at Victoria West.

The James Island-Royal Oak battle will, without doubt, be the feature tilt in the Junior League. The Islanders have five straight wins to their credit, which includes a 2-1 victory over their opponents in tomorrow's game. However, that is the only setback that the Oaks have suffered and if they do not turn the tables on the fast-stepping Islanders tomorrow, it will not be through want of trying.

Tomorrow's teams follow: Saanich Thistles—Willoughby; Jokers—Crowe, Harper, Miller, Viggars, Jim Crowe, Phillips, Price, Easter, Barnwell and Cameron; Esquimalt—McConnell, Quinn, Burgess, Fish, Howie, Quinton and Bob Shanks; Victoria City (Seniors)—Abbott, Margison, Glancy, McKay, Gibbons, Bowman; C. Blaisell, Anderson, Burns, Sherry and Ewart. Reserves: Gauld, Southern and Collier. Play-offs are to be at the Veterans of France at 2 o'clock.

LAMORTE STOPS FRISCO GRANDE
FATERSON, N.J., Nov. 21.—Willie Lamorte, of Newark, claimant of the world's flyweight title, stopped Frisco Grande, of the Philippine Islands, in the seventh round of a scheduled ten-round bout here tonight.

Grande had been down four times when the bout was halted. Lamorte weighed 111½ and Grande 112.

Senior Rugby Squads To Fight for League Leadership Tomorrow

J.B.A.A. and Canadian Scottish, Present and Former Oval Ball Champions, Will Clash in Important Fixture at Willows at 3 o'Clock

With the leadership of the Senior Rugby loop at stake, J.B.A.A. many times champions of the Victoria Rugby Union, and the Canadian Scottish, holders of the title two seasons ago, will clash at the Willows Oval at 3 o'clock tomorrow. The match looms up as the oval ball classic of the early season play, and one that will undoubtedly draw a record crowd of followers.

Victories over the Navy have been chalked up by each of the opposing teams for tomorrow's important battle. The Bays humbled the sailors 11-0 in the league opener, and then the Scottish followed up this defeat by trouncing the sailors 26-0 last week at the Willows. Providing, of course, that the Navy had about the same strength in each of the two matches, the Scottish should be slight favorites to assume the leadership tomorrow. Each of the teams have been training for this important battle, which promises to be one of the fastest and most bitterly contested oval ball intermediate League games for tomorrow follow:

Y.M.C.A. vs. Victoria College.

Local Rider Returns Home

BILL Peden, local boy and a member of the Canadian Olympic bicycle team, who returned from the East yesterday morning. The local bicycle flash joined the professional ranks a few months ago, and, after some great riding in Eastern Canada and the United States, was handed a six-month suspension by the United States body for appearing against outlawed members of the American body at a meet in Montreal. The case is now before the International body in Paris. Peden intends to go into strict training during his stay here, and is confident that he will be in the best of condition when his suspension is lifted on April 5. About the middle of March he will board the rattlers for Eastern parts, where he will again compete in the moneyed ranks. Peden stated last night that he had learned many new tricks in the riding game and that he is confident that he will be able to get a good share of the prize money when he returns to the game. Peden says professional bicycle racing has a great hold in the East and that he enjoys it very much.

Mrs. Port and Port lost to Mrs. List and Snape, 15-11, 15-8.
Mrs. Treherne and Ridewood lost to Miss Taylor and Wickett, 15-9, 12-15, 15-12.

ISLAND HOCKEY TEAM TO PLAY MAINLANDERS

Squad Will Leave Tonight for First of Series for British Columbia Championship

VANCOUVER XI IS REPORTED STRONG

A men's grass hockey team, representative of Vancouver Island, leaves tonight for Vancouver to meet that city in the first of a series of games for the British Columbia championship. Vancouver won the series last year, and again has a powerful list of players. The Island team was chosen last Saturday, after trial games played at Duncan, and the best talent in grass hockey has been selected.

The team representing Vancouver Island is composed of the following: Goal, W. Bird (Victoria); fullbacks, C. C. Grant (Victoria) and Dermot Crofton (Ganges); half-backs, R. Hinton (Victoria), Denny (Duncan) and Wilkinson (Duncan); forwards, T. Wimby (Victoria), Appleby (Duncan), Desmond, Crofton (Ganges), Pat Parr (Victoria), and C. Hodgson (Victoria).

The Victoria Men's Hockey Club has now secured from the city a playing field at the Willows grounds. This field will be put into shape for grass hockey and games will be played there for the rest of the season.

MAINLANDERS READY
VANCOUVER, Nov. 21.—Grass hockey enthusiasts are expected to gather in force for the game between Vancouver and Vancouver Island at Connaught Park Saturday at 2:45 p.m.

With reports of an exceptionally strong team from Victoria, the Lower Mainland grass hockey committee has chosen a formidable side to meet the invasion. Vancouver Repe will be all out to prevent the Islanders from taking back the trophy which the Mainlanders wrested from them a year ago.

Sands (Cricketers) will be in goal for the Repe. He has held the claret on countless occasions against Victoria and is undoubtedly the best goalie on the Mainland. Buchanan, of Crusaders, a hard tackling, clean-hitting defence player, will be at right back. He will be partnered by Hudson, captain of the newly-formed Inco's. These two will make an ideal pair. Hudson is a calm, steady player with a wonderful eye for fielding difficult shots.

The Vancouver halfback line is possibly one of the strongest ever put out. On the right will be Finney (Cricketers), whose speed, stick-handling and judgment make him one of the leading players of the league. In centre will be Browne (Vancouver), who will captain the side. Browne's three years of Vancouver hockey has shown him to be without a superior in the district when in form. Saunders, of Cricketers, will be on the left wing of the half line, always a safe player, he is capable of brilliant things when occasion demands.

The forward line was difficult to choose because of the abundance of talent. The final selection is as representative as the league executive could make it. W. J. Peers, fast Crusader winger, will be at outside right. Inside right will be Jones, of Vancouver, a fast, thrusting forward who can shoot hard and straight. Letts, of Vancouver, will be at centre, a position which he has held in several former games against Victoria. Inside left will be Swann, skipper of the newly-formed B.C. Electrics, while Abercrombie will be on the left wing. In reserve there will be Preston (Varsity), back, Milner (Crusaders), halfback, DesBrisay (Crusaders), and Bengough (Crusaders), forwards.

Taken as a whole it is a team which will make the Islanders step their fastest. The game will be handled by Stone, and the Mainland will wear B.C. Electric colors.

QUEENS TO PLAY TIGERS TOMORROW

Teams Will Hook Up in Fixture for Eastern Canada Rugby Championship at Kingston

TORONTO, Nov. 21.—Two well-balanced football teams completed their training tonight for the Eastern Canada championship to be played at Kingston Saturday. The finalists are Queen's University, champions of the Intercollegiate Union, and Hamilton Tigers, Big Four titleholders. Both teams put the finishing touches to new plays and short ball-carrying drills on snow-swept gridirons. The squads were put in full strength and both teams will field their strongest line-up for the game unless unforeseen developments occur.

Coach Harry Bateson continued tonight to emphasize upon his charges the necessity for a stubborn defence to offset the unusual power of the Tiger offensive. Coach Mike Baden, who has been drilling his players in an effort to build them up, did not drive the Tigers tonight as he has previously this week. Tigers will entrain tomorrow night for Kingston. It is expected two special trains will be required to transport the thousands of Hamilton fans who wish to see the game.

Gus Sonnenberg Hard Pressed to Win From McGill

BOSTON, Nov. 21.—Gus Sonnenberg, champion of the world's heavy-weight wrestling championship, was extended to the limit tonight before winning two falls over Pat McGill. It took Sonnenberg one hour and four minutes to win the first fall with a top body hold. Sonnenberg won the second fall in seven minutes on the fourth try at a flying tackle.

Victoria College Drop Rugby Game To Oak Bay High

Oak Bay High School's first string Rugby fifteen won a hard fought battle from Victoria College's second team in an exhibition game at the Oak Bay Park by a 15-9 score. College pressed from the start and Boorman crossed the Bays' line for the first try. A few moments later Usher equalized when he crashed through for a well deserved score. Two successive tries by Boorman.

gave the College a six-point lead but Carmichael got over just before the half-time whistle to make the score stand 9-6.
Soon after the interval the Bays tied the count and then, as the game progressed, they added two more tries to give them a substandard lead as the final whistle sounded. Fraser Lister refereed and the teams follow:
Oak Bay High School—Ellis, Acland, Fisher (captain), Pangman, Gornall, Carmichael, Latta, Wilson, Beveridge, Boorman, McGregor, Miller, Rice-Jones and Banks.
Victoria College—McInnes, Boorman, Winslow, Bell, Charleswood, Murdoch, Luttrell, Campbell, Mowat, Greene, Denton, Burdon-Murphy, Blake and English.

STROPPING IS ESSENTIAL TO THE PERFECT SHAVE!

-a Grouchy Husband has an alibi

when he shaves with needles . . . but what of it?

The Chinese have a proverb which means "No one knows how much your own corn hurts!"

That's as true of a scratchy shave as it is of an aching toe!

It explains why so many men start the day with a grouch. And why little Rollo knows so many of daddy's "hush" words!

But it doesn't solve the problem! A blade that feels like needles will sour the sweetest of dispositions!

The answer is . . . get the new Valet AutoStrop Razor. It automatically stropps each blade before each shave—just as barbers do! This smooths out the tiny needle points and realigns the jagged edge. It's the only razor that stropps, shaves and cleans without removing the blade.

A couple of flips on the strop—and you have an edge so keen that even the toughest stubble gives up in dismay! You miss the sting and smart. You forget the fear of scraping. Each stroke of the razor is sure, clean, slick. And cool as a spanking sea breeze! You get through faster—your shave lasts longer—your face feels better and looks it!

Try it . . . and get comfort instead of sympathy!

Negro Heavy Barred From Gotham Rings

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—The ups and downs of George Godfrey finally hit zero on Tuesday when the licence of the giant negro heavyweight was revoked by the New York Boxing Commission. Named as the probable opponent of Max Schmeling for an Atlantic City match only twenty-four hours ago, Godfrey now stands a good chance of being barred in all states connected with the New York Commission.

The action was taken in concurrence with the Massachusetts commission, which revoked Godfrey's licence after the black menace had fouled out in a bout with Jimmy Byrne, of Louisville.

Frank Patrick Seeks Gordon Meeking to Act as Hockey Referee

VANCOUVER, Nov. 21.—Frank Patrick is very energetically paging Gordon Meeking these days, but without a great deal of success. The president of the Pacific Coast Hockey League is very anxious to get into touch with the former Victorian, for at present the league is very much up against it for referees. Due to the Victoria Arena falling prey to flames, there will be nine weeks this winter when games will be played in both Vancouver and Seattle Friday night. Meeking is very efficient, but can only be in one spot at the same time. Hence the call for Meeking.

Rhoda, A Red-Headed Girl

by Harry Mitchell Webster

CHAPTER XVII

Bewildered by the suddenness of Forster's question, Rhoda could only echo in amazement, "Who Am I?" "Yes, Ans, for that matter," he went on, "how old are you?" "Eighteen, you say. Sure you weren't eighteen six years ago? Thought you'd cooked up something good, did you, when you got together and swapped stories with a discharged employee of mine, faked up the red hair, and came here pretending to be Rhoda McFarland."

"I am Rhoda McFarland," she told him. "I don't know who you think I am. I don't know what you're talking about."

"I don't mind telling you what I'm talking about. Claire Cleveland couldn't have found out anything about your father, even if she'd tried to. He never came near my office nor where I lived. He worked at a place I fixed up for him, and I used to go around there once a week unwanted tears were welling up in her eyes, anyhow, and blurring her sight of him.

"You can cry, can you? Well, it worked with him but it won't work with me. So you may as well . . ."

He broke off there as the telephone bell rang. He seemed startled, though, by the message he was getting. "What's that?" he barked. "Who does he say he is?" he got the answer to the question, as though he suspected her of having had something to do with that call. "All right," he said, after listening for a minute. "I'll see him, but not in here. Have him shown up to the library. I'll see him there. And find DeGraw and tell him I want him."

He put the telephone back and pressed an electric button.

"I'm going to leave you for a while," he said to Rhoda, "to think things over, and you'd better think straight, if you can. I'm going to get this Cleveland woman. But I've got nothing against you. And, if you can make up your mind to come through clean and tell me the whole story, I'll let you go. Meanwhile, it won't do you any good to try to get away. You could hotter your head off, and nobody would pay any attention to you."

He left and Rhoda sank in her chair, too limp to try to do anything but wait for the next move.

What possessed her mind was the story Forster had been telling her. Was there a scrap of doubt in his mind that she was Walter McFarland's daughter? Wasn't the whole thing a bluff to put her on the defensive and frighten her into doing, eventually, whatever it was that he wanted her to do? It would have been a rather satisfactory explanation, if she could have adopted it, for no other reason than that it brought him out in a clearer, less ambiguous light.

But she found she couldn't adopt it. He wasn't any more of an actor than she was. His manner, while he had been trying to convince her that he had been led by nothing but disinterested benevolence in trying to find her, had been utterly unconvincing. Three times during their talk she had started him into explosions of uncontrolled anger, when she had mentioned the theft of the trunk; again, when she had spoken of Cleveland's name; and, finally, when she had referred to what had happened to her father in California.

The first two times he had seemed more frightened than angry. But the last time he hadn't been frightened at all. Indeed, his anger had seemed to carry with it a relief from his former fear, as if she'd given herself away, and he'd perceived at last that what he'd been frightened about wasn't true. And that must mean that he didn't believe it possible that Claire Cleveland could have known anything about the California episode.

She found herself accepting what he'd told her about that as the truth. Some of the other things he'd told her she knew to be true. Her father had been paid in cash through the four years they'd lived at the hotel. Forster wouldn't have known that, unless he'd paid him himself, or it wasn't likely that he would. What he'd said about her father's feeling, too, by innumerable memories of his having cautioned her not to talk to people, nor answer their questions. It was quite likely that Forster had guarded his secret, though perhaps for reasons he didn't avow, as carefully as he said he had.

But Claire Cleveland, somehow, had found the secret out. She'd spoken of the laboratory on Erie Street, where her father had worked. Had she really worked for him there—evenings, as she said she had? It was possible, but it didn't seem very likely. At any rate, it was fairly unbelievable that he would have confided to her, as she said he had, the story of his California disaster. And yet it was clear that she knew about that. She'd spoken of the trial and the sensation that it created. There'd been hardly anything else in the papers at the time, she said—at least, in the San Francisco papers.

Rhoda sat erect and held her breath. Why, why hadn't she caught that slip at the time? All it meant, all it could possibly mean, was that it had been in the San Francisco papers that Claire had read about it. She'd been in San Francisco then during the trial. She hadn't said so. She hadn't meant to give that away.

Strangely enough the first feeling this conclusion brought Rhoda was one of relief, like waking up from a long nightmare. She had always been sure of her father's rectitude. But now, having heard the story for the first time, she was sure of it in a new way. She could face it now. She could talk to Martin about it. She was confident that her father had been the object of a conspiracy, and that she had sat at lunch today with one of the conspirators.

Of course it was hard to tell where the truth left off and where the lies began. Claire's professed hatred of Forster was true, though as yet specifically unaccounted for. She had tried to convince Rhoda, though, with a suspicious insistence upon her own lack of knowledge, that Forster was the person primarily responsible for the plot against her father.

That felt like the truth, though it obviously wasn't. Forster had stopped being frightened and had burst into a rage of pure relief when she had told him that Claire had said that.

And yet he couldn't be left out of the pattern altogether. He had advertised for Rhoda McFarland and no one but an idiot could doubt, after seeing him and hearing him talk, that he had done so in the furtherance of some mean purpose of his own. Claire, who had once been his private secretary, and Max Lewis, who was his nephew, knew, or thought they knew, what that purpose was, and had tried to forestall him by finding her first. It was her father's papers that Claire had tried to get a chance to rummage through, and, at her own mention to Forster of the theft of these papers, he had started as if she had drawn a revolver on him. There must be something among those papers that he wanted pretty badly; something that had nothing to do with the California episode, but with the work he had done here in Chicago. Was there, or did Forster believe there was, among her father's papers some precious secret formula? Was that what Claire and Max had been trying to steal, so that they could sell it to Forster on their own terms? Was the conspiracy to ruin her father at the university an entirely unrelated thing, except for the coincidence of Claire's connection with it? That seemed rather unlikely, but it was the only way the story made sense.

Says MacDonald Government in For Long Time

In the opinion of E. A. Steele, a prominent solicitor of Halifax, England, who has been traveling leisurely through Canada, the Ramsay MacDonald Government will hold office in Great Britain for a long time to come. It is grappling with the problems of the country in a business-like manner, and the leaders of the Liberal and Conservative parties will hardly join forces to defeat it, as such a course would be sure to react against them. He also expressed himself to the effect that the unemployment situation would be eased considerably through the introduction of two simple remedies. One was to advance the school-leaving age from fourteen to sixteen years, and the other the lowering of the old age pension limit from sixty-five to sixty. Each of these measures would do much to lessen the number of persons seeking employment.

Industrial conditions were steadily improving. The unemployment was confined chiefly to the coal and cotton industries. The cotton trade had slumped largely because of the exporting of cotton manufacturing machinery to be set up in the cotton-producing countries of India and China. He thought the United States would eventually have to accept goods in part settlement for the British war debt.

Muskegs Afford Raw Material of Big New Industry

The time seems ripe for the establishment of a peat litter industry in Canada (says Quebec, London). Large quantities of manufactured peat litter, peat mull and insulating material made from peat litter are imported annually into Canada and the United States from Germany, Holland and Sweden. Peat litter and peat mull of a quality equal to and in most cases superior to that which is imported to North America from Europe is found in great abundance in the peat bogs of Canada, and there is reason to believe that there are great possibilities for the development of an industry on a commercial scale.

Bogs containing high-grade peat litter, thousands of acres in extent, occur in Kent, Northumberland and Gloucester counties, in the Province of New Brunswick, and in Kamouraska and Temiscouata counties, in the Province of Quebec. There are also extensive peat litter bogs in the Fraser River delta of British Columbia, and numerous smaller bogs in the Provinces of Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island.

Peat litter is extremely valuable as an absorbent of liquids and gases. Of the material imported, the most coarsely granulated is used as bedding for horses, cattle and pigs, and the less coarsely granulated is used in poultry houses and as bedding for young stock. The finely granulated material, which is either specially prepared or consists of the residue of fine particles from the screening of the coarse litter, is called peat mull. It is used in Canada and the United States as a mulch or is incorporated with the soils of greenhouses and gardens. It is also used for packing perishable fruits.

Insulating material manufactured from specially treated litter is used in the insulation of walls, floors, roofs of buildings, refrigerator plants and storehouses.

At present two small plants for the manufacture of peat litter and mull are under construction in Canada. One of them is situated on a 150-acre bog a few miles from St. Stephen, New Brunswick, and the other on a 100-acre bog a few miles from New Westminster, British Columbia. It is expected that both of these plants will have litter and mull ready for the Canadian market this Autumn.

BUREAU FAVORS FEDERAL GRANT

Mr. G. I. Warren Authorized to Stress Need for Appropriation at Coming Publicity Convention

SAANICH PROBLEMS TO BE DISCUSSED

At yesterday's luncheon meeting of the board of directors of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau, which was held in the board room of the Chamber of Commerce, Publicity Commissioner George J. Warren was authorized to urge upon the convention of the Publicity and Tourist Bureau of Canada, which will be held in Montreal on December 9 and 10, the desirability of securing a federal grant for publicity purposes. Mr. Warren will leave Victoria next week, and will visit Winnipeg, Toronto and Ottawa upon his journey to Montreal.

It was pointed out that an allowance of ten cents per capita would work out at a grant of about $60,000 to the British Columbia Publicity Bureau, and it was suggested that, in the event of the grant being forthcoming, it should be used for advertising purposes in Europe and the United States.

It was further suggested by Mr. B. C. Nicholas that Mr. Warren should stress the importance of Canadians being induced to spend their money in Canada during the winter, instead of in the West Indies or Bermuda.

TRANSCANADA HIGHWAY
Rev. Montague Bruce informed the board that the Trans-Canada Highway King had been informed in Calgary and had admitted the practicability of the construction of a trans-Canada highway, and that project received the wholehearted support of the board.

Speaking upon the recent complaint that the "Saanich" had not been given sufficient prominence in the propaganda matter issued by the bureau, Rev. Montague Bruce said that it should be realized that the "Saanich" was a very important and there was room for more collaboration between the two. It was decided that a round table conference should take place between members of the Saanich Board of Trade and of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau and that there should be an attempt to come to some satisfactory arrangement.

Burgess Bedtime Stories

Peter Travels on Three Legs

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

What we can do we never know Until our best were forced to show.—Peter Rabbit.

Of one thing Peter Rabbit was certain, and that was that the sooner he got away from that bramble tangle the better. He knew now that Reddy Fox knew where he was and he suspected that Reddy Fox also knew that he had been hurt. So he felt sure that Reddy would be in the hope of catching him outside that bramble tangle. Hardy was Reddy and Mrs. Reddy out of sight on their way home when Peter left the hiding place and made his way to another bramble tangle. There he rested a while, then once more moved on. So he continued to make his way through the bramble tangle to another, hoping along on three legs and all the time keeping the sharpest watch for danger.

Now, as he hopped along he hopped slowly. He held his left forefoot off the ground. "My goodness," thought Peter, "if ever I should have to run for my life I shouldn't have any chance at all on three legs! No, sir, I wouldn't have any chance at all on three legs. Why, anybody could catch me. However shall I get over to the dear Old Briar Patch? If any of my enemies should discover me crossing the Green Meadows to the dear Old Briar Patch I wouldn't have a chance."

At last Peter reached the edge of the Old Pasture. He had stopped to eat a little, although he didn't have much appetite. That bramble tangle was a very good bramble tangle. It was a big one and it was a thick one. In it Peter felt quite safe. He could stay there as long as he liked, for there was enough to eat in there, such as it was. "I'll stay here until this leg is well," thought Peter. So he made himself as comfortable as he could and prepared to stay as long as necessary.

There was one thing, however, that Peter hadn't considered. From the edge of the bramble tangle he could look across the Green Meadows to the dear Old Briar Patch. Just looking made him homesick. Yes, sir, it did so. The more he looked the more homesick he grew. There is no place like home when one is feeling bad, and Peter Rabbit was feeling bad. He stood it just as long as he could, then, just at daybreak the next morning, Peter decided that he couldn't wait any longer. He looked in every direction to see that the way was clear. He couldn't see far, for it was still dark. He knew that if he waited until full daylight it would be more dangerous than it was now. So Peter decided to venture.

He was lucky that Peter started when he did. The sharp eyes of that hawk did see Peter, and the big bird shot down after him.

He hopped out from the bramble tangle and started across the Green Meadows. He went on three legs. Once he tried putting that hurt foot down, but he didn't try it again. That leg was too sore and lame to be used. So he limped along and hoped with all his might that he would not be seen by any of his enemies.

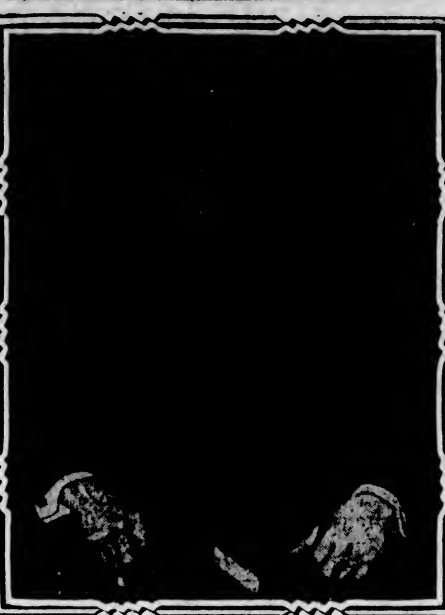

Peter was halfway to the dear Old Briar Patch when he heard a sound that made him forget all about how bad he felt. It was a scream. It was the scream of a hawk. Peter didn't even look to see where that hawk might be. He knew all about the wonderful eyesight of all members of the Hawk family and he knew that if that hawk had not already seen him, it would be only a short time before those wonderful eyes did find him. So Peter started for the dear Old Briar Patch, and to see him go you would never have guessed that only a moment before he had been limping along.

It was lucky that Peter started when he did. The sharp eyes of that hawk did see Peter, and the big bird shot down after him. Peter, rolling his eyes back, saw the hawk coming, and ran faster than ever. As he darted in the dear Old Briar Patch there was a hiss of air through stout wing feathers close behind him and with a scream of disappointment the hawk went on its way. Then, and not until then, did Peter realize that he had been running almost as fast as three legs as he could have using all four.

Chief of Mohawk Tribe

TRADITIONALLY, the North American Indian is unable to cope with the enervating influences of the white man's environment, but Chief Frederick Ogilvie Loft, full-blooded Mohawk, and proud descendant of a long line of warriors of that famed tribe of the Six Nations, has disproven the theory in his own case at least, by heaving out for himself a notable career in the land of the white, though ever keeping the interests of his race close at heart. Chief Loft, head chief of the League of Indians in Canada, is shown here, from a portrait painting by A. R. Hughes, young Canadian artist. Born on the Tuscarora Reservation, near Brantford, Ont., in 1861, Mr. Loft hewed out for himself a remarkable career. Starting as a lumberjack, he became successively a lumber inspector, a newspaper writer, an authoritative writer on history and traditions of the Six Nations, a political campaigner, and a member of the bureau's staff in the Hospital for the Insane, Toronto, for forty years. For his work overseas at the head of a forestry company, he was commended in private audience by His Majesty King George. In 1898 he married Miss Affa Northcote Gears, of Chicago, cousin of Sir Stafford Northcote, later Lord Iddesleigh.—Copyright by Star Newspaper Service.

TALKING TODAY

SAM GRAY: One Time That Falk Fell Down Against Me.
JACK FOURNIER: Casey Stengel Gets Mad.
KID GLEASON: The Hit Ray Demmitt Couldn't Help.

By J. F. GLASS

A M Gray, pitcher of the Browns, says that the most welcome play that ever was made in a game was made in a game when he pitched came up one afternoon while he still was working for Connie Mack in Philadelphia.

It was 1925, which fans will remember was a great season for Gray, he being one of the league's sensations. "I had won six straight games when we reached Chicago," says Sammy. "The afternoon I worked against the White Sox we got a couple of runs early in the game, and it looked as though I had a good chance to cop another."

"In the fifth inning, though, the Sox got to me and filled the bases. And then who should come up to bat but Bib Falk, who had been poison for me ever since the first time I pitched against him. He had been getting his two and three that season he wasn't up to his usual form. "I thought, 'Well, I'm lucky if I get out of this.' I threw the ball, every time he faced me, although Bib swung hard on it. A funny thing happened."

"The ball spun straight up in the air about ten feet and then dropped right down into the glove of Mickey Cochrane, who was catching for us. He didn't stir out of his tracks."

"How the ball came to act that way I don't know. What I do know is that the White Sox didn't score and I copped the game. I grabbed four more, making eleven in a row, before I got set down."

CASEY HAD REASON Jack Fournier told me this one about Casey Stengel, noted as a big league wit and comedian, while he was pastimeing with Brooklyn, Philadelphia and other clubs.

"Casey was playing against Chicago on the day that Virgil Cheever played his first game for the Cubs," says Jack. "The first time Cheever lobbed the ball up to Casey with that funny delivery of his, Casey swung hard, but popped up a little fly to the infield."

"The next time, the same thing happened. "As Casey walked back disgustedly to the bench, a fan yelled: "Hey, Casey, what's he got?" "All I know," shouted Casey, "is he's got me good and mad."

COULDN'T HELP IT Kid Gleason long has liked to tell the story of Jimmy Callahan and Ray Demmitt. Callahan was managing the Chicago White Sox and Demmitt was outfielding for them. This day the Sox's opponents were the Browns in St. Louis.

"The Sox got a lead of 4-0," says Gleason, "but during the fourth inning it looked like a storm was coming up. Callahan ordered our fellows to finish their turn at bat as quickly as possible, so we could get in enough innings to call it a game before the storm broke."

"John Collins struck out purposely on three pitched balls. So did Demmitt. Then Demmitt went up to the plate. He let two balls go past him without swinging."

"Swing, swing!" yelled Callahan. "Ray obeyed orders and swung. He hit the ball to center field for a hit. The Browns fumbled the ball when he ran to second refused to tag him out. There was nothing for him to do but keep on running, so he finally scored."

"The next Sox batter struck out, but Demmitt had used up ten valuable minutes before we could get the Browns out in their half rain began falling by the bucketfuls."

"Why didn't he hit that ball?" Callahan asked Demmitt. "I didn't hit it," said Ray. "The pitcher hit my bat."

FORESTERS GO INTO TIE FOR FIRST PLACE

Lodgemen Defeat "Y" in Fast Senior "C" Division Game in City Cage League—Priors Win

LAUNDRY WOMEN SET BACK BAYS

Staging a brilliant rally to come from behind and tie the score at 13-13 just before half time, Foresters continued their winning ways in the second stanza and finished on the long end of a 32-22 count last night at the Centennial gym in a senior "C" fixture in the City Basketball League. Their victory places them in a tie for top berth with Kestings.

In reality the lodgemen are undisputed first place occupants as they have yet to taste the fangs of defeat, while the suburbanites have had one setback but have played one more game. The way the Foresters are travelling at present they are juggling around the right side of the ledger in the "C" division championship.

Y.M.C.A. started off as if they meant to hand their opponents their first defeat of the season and lodged the leather through the hoop to jump into an early lead. However, the lodgemen, realizing that a reversal would be detrimental to their colors, stepped out and finally ended the initial frame in a deadlock.

Bob Addie, curly-headed forward, and "Red" Martin were responsible for the majority of the Foresters' field goals in this period. The former dropped home three and the latter two.

Both teams went at it like Trojans in the second half, but the "Y" boys failed to cage baskets in the accurate manner their opponents did and finished ten points down when the final whistle sounded.

For the winners Addie was the big noise with fourteen points, while Reynolds, Irving and Martin showed fine form. Robbins, Bradshaw, Cook and Lewis stood out for the losers.

The teams were:
Foresters—Addie (14), Martin (6), Reynolds (7), Irving (5), Moir and Fennell.

Y.M.C.A.—Cook (4), Shoemaker, Robbins (14), Bradshaw (4), Gill, Lewis, McPherson and Harwood.

STANDARDS WIN Standard Steam Laundry chalked up their first victory of the season in the division "B" by defeating the Hudson's Bay quintette, 20-16. Both teams displayed better form than they have in previous fixtures, and are expected to be heard from as the season continues.

The winners held a two-point margin at half time, and, chiefly through the splendid sharpshooting of Mary Foot, the Laundry squad posted their victory. The team counted for more than half her team's points. E. Esler was the star for the departmentals, leading the scorers with twelve points opposite her name.

The teams were:
Standard Steam Laundry—M. Williams (4), S. McDonald (1), G. Peters (2), I. Kelly, M. Foot (11), B. McLeod, L. Mare, J. McLachlan (2).

Hudson's Bay—E. Esler (12), K. Watson, E. Matthews, G. McDonald (4), E. Fulton, G. Cooke, P. Butts.

MECHANICS LOSE Mc. Mc. & Prior jumped into a tie for second berth in the senior "C" section by walking through the Motor Mechanics to the tune of a 30-10 victory. At half time the scoreboard read 21-4 in the winners' favor. The mechanics held their own in the second period and only poor shooting held their total down.

Spencer, Partington, Seabrook and Velich starred for Priors, while Graves, Farmer, Thompson and Rawlinson were the pick of the losers.

Mc. Mc. & Prior—Seabrook (6), Spencer (12), Partington (8), Velich (4), McFayden.

Motor Mechanics—Johnson, Farmer (2), Rawlinson (2), Graves (4), Anfield, Thompson (2).

Alan Le Marquand handled all three games.

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membrane and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recommended by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membrane and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory disease, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

The Name of Gordon Head Telephone Exchange

Being Changed to Albion

In preparation for the cut-over from the manual to the dial (automatic) system of telephone operation in Victoria, the name of the Gordon Head Exchange is being changed to Albion. This does not mean, however, that the automatic system is to be inaugurated in Gordon Head at the present time, although this may be done later on. The change in the name of Gordon Head is made necessary by the fact that the present name is not suitable for dialing and for technical reasons might cause confusion when the Victoria system is changed.

The new name, Albion, will be used in all Gordon Head telephone numbers appearing in the December issue of the directory, and will become effective at midnight, December 1. After that time kindly use the new directory and destroy the old.

EXTENSION MADE ON DEER SEASON

Extra Fortnight Added to Buck Season Which Will Conclude on Dec. 15 Instead of Nov. 30

According to the announcement made by Roger Monteth, president of the Victoria Fish and Game Association, yesterday, bucks only are included in the extension of the open season on deer until December 15. The new rules released recently by the board were a little hard to understand and so Mr. Monteth finally dug up the correct interpretation.

The original deer season was supposed to terminate on November 30, but it has been extended on bucks until December 15. The doe season will conclude in November as originally called for.

Major Monteth wants it made clear to all members that the extra two weeks does not include the Highland district.

Exchange Resists Selling Pressure and Prices Make Advance on New York Mart

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—The stock market firmly resisted selling pressure today and made further substantial progress under the impetus of continued improvement in credit and constructive news. Profit-taking during the early hours of the session and leading shares sagged moderately until close to midday when they attracted sufficient buying to shake off their sluggishness and shorts quickly covered.

Closing prices were generally 1 to 1 1/2 points higher. Strength was concentrated in the utilities, rails and chemicals. Trading continued orderly and comparatively quiet, but showed moderate expansion of volume, 3,138,680 shares changing hands.

Call money again renewed at 5 per cent and was reduced to 4 1/2, but funds went begging, and were offered at low 3 per cent outside. Foreign exchange held fairly steady, sterling advancing 1-16 to $4.87 11-16.

An extended rally in foreign loans together with continued strength in domestic corporation issues and United States Government securities was the bond market's response today to the abundance and cheapness of money. The liveliest investment demand of the week appeared in virtually all sections of the list, although there was some shifting of funds from Liberties and Treasury certificates to rails, utilities and industrials.

Eastern Mines Show Some

at Vancouver

ACTIVE ISSUES ALL
LOSE SOME GROUND

VANCOUVER, Nov. 21.—With the exception of strength shown in Eastern mines provisionally listed on the local stock exchange, the general trend was downward today, all the active oil issues losing ground on a moderate trade. A.P.C. slipped back 20 to $2.17; Calmont lost 4 to $1.50. C. & E. 9 at $3.32, and Home, 5 at $12.10. Royalty was down $2.50 to $65; Sterling Pacific 6 at $13.6, and Southwest 15 at $2.05; Mayland at $3 and McDougall Secur at $2.20 were up 5.

On a moderate trade, Falconbridge was 35 firmer at $7; Noranda, 65 at $36.85; Sudbury Basin, 15 at $4.75; Sherritt Gordon, 15 at $3.90; Teck Hughes, 5 at $5.15; and Ventures, 40 at $4.15. International Nickel was off 75 at $32; Duthie and Goldconda firm 2 points at 38 and 80 respectively, while Los Angeles Vancouver, the only other issue to move up, was 30 stronger at 90. The balance of the mines held about steady.

Brokers' Loans Expected to Show
Further Decline—Redcount
Rate to Go Lower

(B.C. Bond Corporation, Ltd.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—The restoration of confidence was clearly demonstrated yesterday, not so much by the advance recorded in many stocks during the first two hours of trading as by the quick check of the profit taking which developed during the final hour of the session.

While in and out traders were willing to part with stocks after they showed a few points profit, those who were not so easily convinced with broader vision placed their bets on a recovery. We look for a resumption of strength today, but owing to the weekly meeting of the Federal Reserve Board and the publication of the brokers' loans statement, many will prefer to take profits in order not to be caught by some unexpected adverse development. Personally, we do not believe that news which will come out after the close of today's trading will be of a reassuring character to the market's further recovery. Brokers' loans should show a further substantial decline, while the redcount rate, even if it will not be reduced again, is definitely headed for lower levels.

We believe that the trading community has not fully realized the importance of the low rate. It has been a long time since low money was a factor in the market, so that official measurements at given times estimates run four to five million feet. Separator is being hooked up to take advantage of this gas. Eastcrest No. 2 twisted off stem and lost bit, but expect fishing job will be short. Gas struck in this well is interfering with drilling and may be caused off.

Mill City is drilling steadily at over 2,850 feet.

Mayland No. 1 hit more gas on Tuesday night, while making thirty feet of new hole, bringing total depth to practically 5,000 feet. The amount of gas cannot be safely estimated, but it would be expected that a hard capping would overlay the next big increase.

Southwest Petroleum is steadily penetrating exceptionally hard formation and made only two feet in the last twenty-four hours. The total depth is about 5,000 feet. This well is known to have had at least two good gas increases, but no official statement is offered by Imperial Oil as to the amount now secured. The well is the deepest yet drilled in big production could be expected.

Royalty Nos. 21 and 23 are both reported drilling steadily with no material change yesterday.

McDougall production is running about 200 barrels daily and should be nearly 6,000 for month. Number 3's fishing job is completed and No. 3 is straightening the hole at 2,145 feet. The bulk of the production is coming from No. 3 and No. 4. If No. 1 is brought back into 100 barrels daily production, the company will probably start cleaning out No. 7, which is producing very little at present.

Spooner No. 3 is drilling at about 2,725 feet. No. 2 is making about fifty barrels daily and No. 1 is about thirty. A diamond drill is now being used to clean out No. 1 in hope of increasing the flow.

Sterling Pacific, definitely in the line at 5,153, is to the northeast of the well to reach the line in Turner Valley. It is about two miles south of Southwest Petroleum. Between Sterling Pacific and Southwest Petroleum are the Mercury and Mill City groups as well as the Commonweal on the eastern flank. This absolutely proves the line to extend southward through the Mill City and Mercury acreage.

BANKRUPTCY WILL NOT AFFECT CITY

LONDON, Nov. 21.—Announcement that Ironmonger & Company, foreign bankers, suspended payment, being unable to meet their obligations, was not expected today to have much effect in the city. The firm conducted a small business in foreign exchange. It figured out what was known as the "franc" case nearly two years ago, involving a former employee of the British Foreign Office, who was sued by the company as the outgrowth of debt in foreign currency.

FLOAT TO BE CONSTRUCTED

Shawnigan Lake Service to Be Installed When Appropriation Is Available for Purpose

TWO HIGHWAYS REQUIRE REPAIR

SHAWNIGAN LAKE, Nov. 21.—The monthly meeting of the Malahat Board of Trade was held in the hall Wednesday night. Mr. G. A. Cheek, president, in the chair. There were also present Lieutenant-Colonel L. J. Whitaker, Major M. A. Curwen, Dr. George Moore, Messrs. S. J. Head, W. Mudge, Jr., E. M. Walbank, H. E. Hawking, W. K. McLaren and J. C. Rathbone, secretary.

FLOAT REQUIRED

The new road giving access to Shawnigan Lake station having been completed, and a crossing for foot passengers granted by the railway, the Federal Department of Public Works has been asked to implement the undertaking of the department to put in a float. The engineer has stated that this will be done, but will have to await an appropriation.

Mr. C. H. Dickie, M.P., will be asked to use his efforts to obtain an emergency appropriation for the purpose.

A discussion arose as to the difficulty the B.C. Electric Company have had in getting permission to erect poles near the old Dundas property. It was stated, however, that a solution has now been found to the trouble, and that no action of the board is necessary.

The president reported on his attendance at an executive meeting of the Associated Boards at Nanaimo on October 30, and stated that recommendations by a committee appointed to advise on remedies for the destruction of game by vermin, cats and dogs were, with few exceptions, endorsed.

This committee was appointed at the request of the Malahat Board. Mr. S. J. Head, who represented the board at the dinner given by the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, gave an interesting report on that function. The board expressed entire agreement with a resolution, in circular form, from the Victoria Chamber, concurring in the establishment of certain rural industries.

ROAD IMPROVEMENTS

The assistant district engineer will be asked to use machinery, available at Cobble Hill, the old Victoria Road and the West Arm Road as soon as possible, as both these roads are in very bad shape. The former road is now entirely unsuitable for the traffic it has to bear, and the Automobile Club will again be asked to join this board in urging the department to have a survey made. The Victoria Chamber and Duncan Chamber have signified their willingness to assist, this road being an attractive route to the Island Highway.

Mr. W. B. McLaren, of the McLaren Company, who have bought the Shawnigan Lake store, was selected a member of the board.

PARENT-TEACHER MEETING

NANAIMO, Nov. 21.—With Mr. R. T. Wilson presiding, the regular meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association was held Wednesday night. At the conclusion of her address the speaker was given a hearty vote of thanks. Mrs. Barnard reported briefly on the peace conference she attended in Vancouver last week, as a delegate of the local Parent-

Teacher body, and will deal more fully with it at some future date.

TAKE HEAVY TOLL OF ISLAND DEER

NANAIMO, Nov. 21.—A hunting party from Vancouver, B.C., and Everett, Wash., returned to Nanaimo last evening with their full quota of deer and the satisfaction of having had one of the best week's hunting they ever had. They spent the past week at Campbell River, where they shot twelve deer. The six in the party were Walter Morgan, W. McCartney, George Tupling, M. Coleman, Otto Smithburg and Elmer Compton.

Old Engraving Of H.M.S. Driver Is Discovered

On display at the Victoria Book & Stationery Company, Ltd. shop is a fine steel engraving of H.M.S. Driver at Cronstadt, on June 27, 1864, resurrected by Major F. V. Longstaffe, noted authority on Victoria's early maritime history. Included in the picture is the Kessel Battery, Fort Alexander, Fort Metchnikoff, Tolbaken Light, and the yachts Gondola and Esmeralda.

The steam sloop Driver, Commander Charles Richard Johnson, R.N., conveyed Richard Blanchard, Esquire, from Panama to Victoria in 1850. He read himself in on March 11 of that year as first British Governor of the Northwest. On May 20, 1861, the Driver was wrecked upon Mariguana Island and became a total loss. She was launched at Portsmouth in 1840 as a 1,095-ton vessel, 130 feet long, 36 feet beam, 21 feet depth, and with engines of 280 horsepower driving paddle wheels.

Booms Lengthened

The Kingsley Navigation Company's freighter, Canadian Observer, is now at Vancouver having her booms lengthened. Both the Observer and the Canadian Observer will have their stacks changed from Canadian National colors to the Kingsley insignia.

Present plans of the company call for establishment of weekly service between Victoria and San Francisco. He: "You were no Spring chicken when I married you. I was a little goose."

TURKEY IS IN BATTLE WITH OLD BELIEFS

Women Revolt Against Harem and Interference of Priests With Their Adoption of Modern Ways

LAND IS SCENE OF VALIANT EFFORTS

Looming on the horizon of the Turkey of the East is the Turkey of the West—a Turkey of a new generation, waging a titanic struggle against ironclad beliefs of the older generations breaking away from the religion and philosophy of the East and seeking the freedom that characterizes New World civilization. Such was the vivid picture orally drawn by Miss Hadije Selma Ekrem, noted young Turkish authoress and lecturer, addressing an audience in Montreal, her confided remarks to a scintillating description of the "Clash of the Generations in the New Turkey."

With an eagerness that served to emphasize every spoken word, Miss Ekrem laid particular stress upon younger Turkey's valiant uprising against the ideals and ethics of the older Turkey. It is a relentless battle, she pointed out, and one that makes of her country a new land, one in which is no longer found the key that opened the magic world of the fairy tale, but, instead, an atmosphere that bordered on the bustle and ado of the Western World. Old Eastern complacency was being abandoned for modern aspects of the West, and Turkey, its eye ever upon Western civilization, was gradually turning its face from the East.

All this is not being accomplished without serious objections, however, the lecturer emphasized. It is the rising generation—a generation of youth with determination—that is staging these epic-making battles, and it is the older generation—a generation of people who have endured the tyrannic rule of sultans—that opposes these changes. The older people cannot see, though they are not blind, that younger Turkey demands the freedom of Western civilization. Yet they object, and with a passion that is stoic.

The beginning of the nineteenth century saw Young Turkey rise to overthrow the cloak of Eastern custom and civilization that had enveloped it, the speaker said. Education entered into the lives of the Turkish populace and the long struggle began. Through the stern rule of sultans, however, it continued during the three of the Great War until, in 1923, when Turkey was declared a republic, it was named by a greater flame—that of the freedom sought by harshly imprisoned women. This flame surged over the new republic with momentum. This rising generation continued to fan the fire of greater fury, despite the untiring efforts of the older generation to quell its ferocity. It was a battle of generations; the younger generation seeking freedom and liberty, while the older generation, viewing their efforts in the light of dismay, sought still closer adherence to century-old customs.

WOMANHOOD IN REVOLT

The children of today are the hope of Turkey, continued Miss Ekrem. In their hands lies Turkey's future and success of New Turkey's great attempt to overthrow the shackles of Eastern civilization. Turkish womanhood, in the transition stage between the harem regime of yore and the new freedom, staunchly rebels against the restrictions played upon in the past. The women rebel against these restrictions which hamper them. They object to priestly decreeing of the role they are to play in Turkey. Their religion, the Moslem teachings of Muhammad, does not restrict them, but when interpreted in the way the priests choose to interpret it, they are harem-restricted and their faces are veiled.

Already, Miss Ekrem declared, the rising generation of Turkey has freed itself from both the shackles of religion, as interpreted by the priests, and sultanic rule winning two glorious victories, the forebearers of other victories. With relentless courage, perseverance and determination other shackles will be cast aside, despite objections on the part of the older generation. A New Turkey, the life-blood of freedom coursing through its veins, rises, an Eastern land of Western thoughts, customs and ideals, and all this the marvelous work of the rising generation.

"One day we shall turn to the East, though," Miss Ekrem stated, "for she has a heritage for us. But we accept the West slowly and thoughtfully."

The speaker injected into her address many personal experiences during girlhood in Turkey. Of Turkish nobility, her family having given to her country military, political and literary leaders for many centuries. Miss Ekrem's father is the renowned Ali Ekrem Bey, former Governor of Jerusalem and of the Aegean Islands. Her paternal grandfather, Namik Kemal Pasha, was Turkey's famous poet and literary leader prior to the days of the 1908 revolution.

"And my father, though stern, was liberal in thought," she confided. "He educated me at an American university."

World-Famous Stories

BLUEBEARD

By CHARLES PERRAULT

(Charles Perrault, 1628-1703, was a Frenchman who wrote down and thereby preserved many fairy tales originating in ancient lore, including the tale of Bluebeard. Puss in Boots, Sleeping Beauty, etc.)

There was once a very rich man with a blue beard, for which he came to be called Bluebeard, since a beard of this color was most unusual and very noticeable. Perhaps it was on account of the hue of his beard that strange stories were told about him; then again, maybe the stories were true.

At any rate, it was commonly said that he had been married several times, though no one knew whatever happened to his wives. At the time this story opens, he was again without a wife—she had disappeared, no one knew where or how. But he was so exceedingly wealthy that mothers were quite anxious to marry off their eligible daughters to him, so he had no trouble in securing a neighbor's beautiful daughter for his new wife.

In fact, Bluebeard made himself so gracious and gallant that Fatima, his chosen bride, began to like him rather well. At first she deflected his blue beard, but after a while she came to think that maybe he wasn't so blue as she had thought, and that it was even rather handsome and certainly quite distinguished to have a blue beard. So they were quite happy, and for a time they were quite happy.

But there came a time when Bluebeard had to go away on a journey. So he said to his young wife to him and told her, saying what he wished her to have a good time in his absence. He gave her the keys to all his castle, with permission to roam at will among his great rooms and examine to her heart's content all his wealthy possessions. She could use any key on the ring—except one, a very small key.

"What is that key for?" Fatima asked. Bluebeard became grave. "That key unlocks the closet at the end of the great hall on the ground floor," he said, "but you must not open that door. Use any other key you wish—go into whatever room you like—but this closet must never be opened."

"Why?" asked Fatima. "Please tell me why." "You must not ask," answered Bluebeard. "That is something you must never know. If you disobey me by so much as peeking through a crack in that door, you will be severely punished."

Where is the key to the closet? Bluebeard asked at once. Fatima at last had to give her husband the bloodstained key, and he noticed the telltale mark immediately. "How came it there?" he demanded. "I don't know," she said, "terribly frightened."

"You are lying to me," said Bluebeard. "You know very well. You could not resist your curiosity. You had to look in the forbidden closet. All the rest of the castle was not enough for you, just because I had forbidden one door. Well, now you know what is there—and as your punishment, you too must go into that closet—to stay, among those who went before you."

Fatima begged for mercy, but Bluebeard was determined and cruel. He told her to prepare herself for death. Fatima finally asked for time in which to pray, which was granted. Now it happened that Fatima's strong young brothers were on the way to visit her that day, and she had hoped that they would arrive in time to save her life—if she spent long enough at her prayers. Her sister Anne was there with her, so she sent Anne up into one of the castle's towers to watch for the brothers and to signal them to make haste.

After a time, Bluebeard, having picked out a sharp sword for the horrible deed he was about to commit, called Fatima to come to him, but she delayed, and called up to ask Anne if she saw her brothers.

"I see nothing but the sun and the grass," Anne answered. Bluebeard called his wife again. "Don't you see anyone?" Fatima asked of Anne desperately. "I do see a great cloud of dust," said Anne.

"Come, come," cried Bluebeard. "Hurry up!" Fatima still remained in her room, near the tower. "Sister Anne," she called softly, "tell me what you see now."

At the sound of her voice, however, her

BISCUITS AND CRACKERS

Those who have been following my health articles know that I usually recommend wholewheat flour rather than white, but there are two methods in which the white flour may be used. The first is in the form of thoroughly toasted or dextrinized bread, and the second is in the form of baking powder biscuits. The best method of making these baking powder biscuits is to combine the white flour with eggs and milk with the addition of baking powder. The biscuits should be made very thin so that they can be thoroughly cooked. They should not be used in addition to other starches at the meal, but should be considered the principal starchy food and be properly combined with the nonstarchy and salad vegetables. Either white or wholewheat flour may be used in the preparation of these biscuits.

Properly prepared biscuits should be light, with a golden brown crust of a fluffy composition and never soggy. In making them one should be accurate with the measurements, have an oven of correct temperature, and avoid overhandling or kneading the biscuits. A good recipe is as follows:

Two egg whites, two level teaspoonsful of baking powder or less, depending upon the type of baking powder used. (Follow the directions given on the can.) Two cups of flour, a pinch of salt and a half cupful of milk. Beat the egg whites until stiff and fold in the flour with as little stirring as possible, adding the milk a little at a time along with the flour, which has been sifted with the baking powder and salt. The yolks should be beaten in the milk and not thrown away. Drop the batter in small spoonfuls on an ungreased aluminum sheet and bake in a hot oven until brown.

Most of the biscuits sold from the bread counters are made of yeast rather than baking powder, and resemble bread rather than baking powder biscuits. Biscuits should never be used as a strawberry shortcake or with any acid fruit. Crackers may occasionally be used as the starchy part of a meal instead of biscuits. They are better when toasted so that they are thoroughly dry and of a golden brown. Crackers may be taken on camping trips in place of bread. There are also a variety of wholewheat crackers baked in a hard, flat form. Some have the addition of flaxseed, raisins, etc. One of the latest to be developed is the wholewheat cracker to which various vegetables have been added. This is a good type of cracker to feed children, as the vegetables are disguised and they can eat a large quantity.

There are a number of shredded wholewheat biscuit products which are quite wholesome when broken open and retasted under the broiler. Because of these products being so brittle, they may be softened by pouring hot water over them and then seasoning with butter. They can then be eaten with a spoon as a very tasty substitute for Melba toast.

Cornmeal flour may be used to replace the wheat flours in preparing muffins, but the wheat flour and cornmeal should not be mixed together in the same recipe.

In preparing any of these biscuits or crackers remember that they are starchy foods and should be used as such and not be combined with acid fruits.

LORD'S DAY ACT

Further Adjudgment in Prosecutions Arising Out of Incident During Stock Exchange Panic

In police court yesterday morning the hearing of two charges against Henry Bepko and The Colonist Printing and Publishing Company, under the Lord's Day Alliance Act, were adjourned until November 29. Two other charges against Branson, Brown & Company, Ltd., and H. A. Humber, under the same act, which were to have been heard this morning, will, it is understood, be also adjourned.

City Prosecutor C. L. Harrison stated he had subpoenaed certain witnesses to produce documents regarding the books of Branson, Brown & Company, dealing with business alleged to have been transacted on Sunday, November 3. The defence had offered to allow the prosecution to go through the books, the claim of the defence being that while the defendant firm may have intended to carry on business on the day in question it had, in fact, carried out no actual dealings.

He was going to have auditors examine the books and inquire into the matter, and if it were proved that no actual dealings had taken place, the cases would not be very lengthy. He suggested that the court adjourn the cases until November 29, which was done. Mr. H. A. Maclean, K.C., for defendants, was quite agreeable to this course, and said that, as a matter of fact, Branson, Brown & Company did no business at all.

Pop: "I heard something about you today."

Billie: "It's not true, pop. I never did such a thing in my life."
